Board Has Confidence About Oatis

Directors Feel Nation Will Try All Ways to End Jail Term of Reporter

Week Is Begun

Newspapers Open Yearly Sessions — Gruenther Is to Give Talk

New York, April 21 (AP) — The Board of Directors of the Associated Press said today it is confident the United States government "will explore and exploit any opportunity to end the unjust confinement" of AP Reporter William N. Oatis in a Czechoslovakian jail.

Oatis was jailed a year ago this week—April 23—on charges of espionage. He was sentenced last July 4 to 10 years imprisonment.

The AP directors said the trial showed he was guilty "only of endeavoring, honestly and objectively, to gather and report information which in the western world is legitimate and essential news."

One effect of retaliatory measures invoked by the United States against Czech trade, the directors said, has been a substantial decline in exports from Czechoslovakia. These dropped, the board said, from more than $9 million in the first quarter of 1951 to slightly more than $2¼ million in the last three months of 1951.

Case Is Reviewed

The AP directors reviewed the Oatis case in their report to the annual meeting of members of the Associated Press, worldwide news gathering cooperative, held

Hope Held for End Of Rahway Mutiny

Rahway, N. J., April 21 (AP) —The superintendent of Rahway State Prison said today "I am very hopeful" the end of a four-day mutiny of 231 convicts will come today.

"I know they're having a meeting in there, because I heard the whistle blow," said Superintendent William Lagay. "I really think something is going to develop during the day. I don't want to raise any false hopes, but I am very hopeful."

Hunger and thirst were the allies of the prison officials.

Dewey Reported To Have Signed Local Court Bill

Changes Affect Civil Cases, Jurisdiction Over Crimes in City

City Judge Raymond J. Mino said today he had been informed that Governor Thomas E. Dewey had signed a bill authorizing the modernization of the local city court.

Under provisions of the bill, the local court's jurisdiction will be increased to include civil cases up to $1,000 instead of the former limit of $500. Under the law also, citizens of the city will be permitted to institute actions against persons in the county.

Legal practice will now be similar to that in the county and supreme courts, a small claims court will be established, and criminal court judisdiction will be increased to include every misdemeanor occuring within the city.

Judge Mino explained the changes to local aldermen at a Common Council session last month and the changes were approved by the local legislative body.

Another change in city court procedure which is expected to go into effect in the near future will set up a traffic violations bureau for disposing of minor traffic charges. This is expected to go into effect during the summer.

Shadow Is Cast

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—President Truman's seizure of the steel companies is casting a shadow of uncertainty on the rights of about 50,000 New York steelworkers to state compensation and disability benefits. The State Workmen's Compensation Board said Saturday that the legal question involved a determination whether Truman's seizure order made steelworkers in the state employes of the federal government, rather than of the steel companies. However, a board spokesman said the claims under the state laws would be processed and that no freeze order would be slapped on payment of such claims.

Captain Is Due Home

Captain Morton M. Sosna, of 69 Hasbrouck avenue, is due to arrive in San Francisco today, The Associated Press reported this morning. He is aboard the transport General M. C. Meigs carrying 3,246 army rotation combat troops from Korea.

Boy Drowns in Creek; 12 Hurt in Accidents; Many Fires Reported

Historical Atom Parachute Drop Is Scheduled Tuesday

120 Selected Troopers Ready for Nuclear Test in Nevada; Weather Vital

Atom Bomb Site, Nev., April 21 (AP)—History's first atomic smoke jumpers, with one eye on the weather, made final preparations today for their spectacular part in Exercise Desert Rock IV.

Scientists and military men promised to provide a nuclear test guaranteed to furnish thrills for more than 300 invited observers tomorrow—if murky clouds and tricky winds will dissipate.

The maneuvers against "enemy" positions behind imaginary hills on Yucca Flat will involve an atom bomb drop of more than ordinary proportions between 9 and 10 a. m., Pacific Standard Time, (12 noon-1 p. m., EST).

Nearly 1,500 troops—dug into four-foot deep foxholes about three miles from ground zero—will atack the enemy positions. As the troops advance to ground zero, four C-46 planes will drop 120 selected paratroopers of the 504th Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division well behind the enemy lines.

Elements Will Combine

Then the two elements will combine to wipe out the enemy stronghold.

That's the tactical problem which has been set up. But if winds run more than 15 miles per hour or clouds continue to hang low, the paratroopers may stay on the ground. A C-47 medical ship will evacuate any casualties.

Ahead of the dug-in combat battalion will be machineguns, small planes and trucks. They will be inspected before the blast, then re-examined afterwards to determine the effects of the thrust, heat and radiation of the bomb.

Press and civilian defense observers will have a grandstand seat eleven miles from ground zero on News Nob, the natural promontory just in front of the control building.

Before ground troops advance or paratroopers jump, radiological safety monitors will move into no-man's land with ion chambers and Geiger counters to make sure that it is safe to occupy. This may be an hour after the detonation.

Brig. Gen. Harry P. Storke, who plans to be in a front-line foxhole, says the maneuver—besides its tactical aspect—also seeks to brace the morale of the atomic GIs and show what equipment can take in a nuclear blast.

The infantrymen might find their advance guns still usable, Gen. Storke says, adding quickly —"if the guns are still there."

About 3,000 troops will stand by at Camp Desert Rock, 20 miles behind the "battlefield," to lend engineering and supply support.

Freedom Refused

Washington, April 21 (AP)—The Supreme Court today refused to free German Countess Marianna Von Moltke from the prison term she drew on charges that she spied for Hitler.

Body of Boy Found in Esopus—Local Man Hurt in 9W Crash

Sirens screamed in almost every section of Ulster county at one time or another during the weekend, as fire trucks, ambulances and police vehicles answered what must have been a record number of emergency calls. Here's the situation at a glance:

1. Robert Mininchelli, four and one-half years old, drowned in the Esopus creek near his home in Saugerties on Saturday. Saugerties firemen, police and state police searched for more than two hours, dragged the body from 20 feet of water at 9:45 p. m.

2. Five automobile accidents were reported with 11 persons listed as injured. Most seriously hurt: Morris Samter of Kingston, reported as "critical" at Kingston Hospital.

3. Stiff winds fanned fires through tinder-dry brush, woods and grass in various sections of the county. Almost every fire company in the Kingston area was called out at least once.

4. Robert Shumate, 27, of Lomontville was accidentally shot in the left ankle while a bull was being butchered on his father's farm Sunday morning, the sheriff's office reported. He was taken to Kingston Hospital.

Boy's Body Recovered

The body of Robert Mininchelli, four and one half years old, was recovered from the Esopus Creek at Saugerties at 9:45 p. m. Sat-

Building Is Set Ablaze By Inmates

Brutality Charged

Mutiny Is Based Upon Alleged Treatment by Officials

Jackson, Mich., April 21 (AP)—Six more guards were seized as hostages by mutineers at the state prison of southern Michigan today.

This brought to ten the number of hostages held by the prisoners.

Four other guards had been in the prisoners' custody since last night.

The method of seizure of the additional six was not immediately made clear at the prison.

The first gunfire of the prison riot meanwhile took place.

State police fired four shots when rioters were said to have threatened guards of a work party inside the grounds. The police said the shots were "warning shots" and were fired over the heads of the convicts.

Large Sections Seized

Jackson, Mich., April 21 (AP)—Rioting prisoners seized control of large sections of the big southern Michigan state prison today and set one building on fire in a continuation of an outbreak that began Sunday night.

The bulk of the Michigan state police force was rushed to the scene to guard the beleaguered institution and prevent any possible mass escape attempts.

Half a dozen prison guards had been injured as the rioting spread into mid-morning.

The quartermaster building, containing clothing, was set ablaze.

State police used tear gas to keep some of the rioters from breaking into other cell blocks.

Meantime, another group broke into the prison theatre, seized musical instruments and paraded in the yard.

A night-long mutiny of some of the prison's toughest criminals touched off a series of new disturbances after daybreak.

Four prison guards were held as hostages by the mutineers.

The prison vicinity resembled an army camp.

Walls Encircled

State troopers encircled the walls outside. Another 25 troopers, armed with sub-machine guns and tear gas, took stations on the prison roof.

Bedlam held forth within the walls.

At least two prison blocks, including a mental ward, and the mess hall were reported in control of the rioters.

It wrecked block 15, the isolated block where the most dangerous criminals are confined, and where the hostages were held prisoners.

Last night's riot which occurred about 7 o'clock in this block had touched off the series of disturbances.

Another followed at breakfast in the mess hall this morning. Still others took place and finally prisoners swarmed into the big prison yard, taking control there, too.

Hyatt Leads Rioers

Notorious "Crazy Jack" Hyatt, robber who once used a knife to make Gov. G. Mennen Williams his hostage in a futile escape attempt, led the original mutiny.

The mutineers charged prison heads with brutality.

Hyatt's group sent out word this morning that they would "work over" their hostages if live

State Fires Are Under Control

Bad Blaze Breaks Out Near Cold Spring at Sugar Loaf

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—New York state fire-fighters had a broad front of forest and brush fires under control today, but warned the danger would continue at least through tomorrow.

Weekend fires ravaged large areas of timber and grassland in the state, as strong winds whipped the flames.

Kinne Williams, state superintendent of forest fire control, said the dry "conditions of Saturday and Sunday will continue through tomorrow."

Only a small fraction of the state's fires had been reported Williams said and no estimate of damage could be made.

He blamed most of the fires on "public disregard of highly hazardous weather and fuel conditions."

Worst of Blazes

The worst of the fires occurred on Long Island, where volunteers no sooner had turned one big blaze away from the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven Laboratories when other flames

Bowlatorium Sold At Auction Today To Kaufman Group

President of Corporation Offering $113,600 Refuses Comment on Plans

The Ruzzo Bowlatorium on Grand street was sold at noon today at public auction at the court house pursuant to a judgment of foreclosure and sale.

There were two bids. The opening bid was for $100,000 made by Lloyd R. LeFever, attorney for the plaintiff John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company, in the action against the Kingston Midtown Corporation, and others.

The second bid was from George F. Kaufman, attorney, who bid $113,600 on behalf of The 23-27 Grand Street Corporation, Inc., a new corporation of which Mr. Kaufman is president.

No Present Plan

After the sale Kaufman stated that the new corporation had no present plan and stated the property "might be continued as a bowling institution and it might not." He indicated that the corporation had no immediate plans for use of the property.

The property was offered for sale at public auction by Guido J. Napoletano, referee, who after reading the notice of sale and the terms of the sale asked for bids.

About thirty persons were present at the sale.

There were two parcels offered. The first parcel included the premises on the northerly side of Grand street which is occupied by the bowling alleys and the second parcel is the premises on the southerly side of Grand street which has been used for parking purposes.

Under the terms of the sale the high bidder paid 10 per cent of the purchase price at the time of the sale and the balance must be paid on or before May 21. The sale was subject to taxes, water rents, etc., and did not include the personal property in the building.

Equipment Sold

Equipment in the building installed by Brunswick-Balke Collender, Inc., was sold at auction recently with the company bidding in the equipment for $52,420. This equipment included the alleys on which there was a chattel mortgage held by the company.

It was stated prior to the sale that the action as against Gerard Betz, one of the defendants in the action, had been adjusted.

Hercules Begins Move to Defense Contract Quarters

Hercules Powder Company, which some time ago leased the former Cook Garage property on the East Chester by-pass as temporary quarters for defense contract operations, was reported today moving to the site. Personnel from the Port Ewen plant will be transferred to the auxiliary plant.

It was said today that there will be about 120 persons engaged on defense work at the East Chester street plant.

Previously to leasing the Cook property, it had been announced that Hercules would move the department to central Broadway in the Trailways building, but that site was given up and the East Chester street site leased.

George Washington School Inspection Due Tuesday

Public Is Asked to Witness Actual Operation From 10 to 4 and Special Evening Hours Are Scheduled, 7 to 10

Kingston's newest public school building, the George Washington School on Wall street, considered one of the most modern elementary school buildings in the state of New York will be open for public inspection Tuesday.

In order that the public may see the school under actual operation, visitors are invited to the school from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. and during the evening from 7 until 10 o'clock.

Parents are invited to visit the class rooms and become familiar with the actual class room procedure and see how their children are instructed in this modern school.

Programs of Entertainment

In the big auditorium which will seat 588 persons, there will be an entertainment given by students of the school at 2 p. m. and again at 8 o'clock in the evening the same program will be repeated. This program will be by the instrumental and vocal departments of the school. There will also be the ceremony of presenting the American flag to the school on behalf of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Not only are parents of children attending the school invited to the public inspection of the building, but the Board of Education extends an invitation to the general public to visit the school and see just how the school system works and for what purposes the taxpayers' money is being spent.

Board to Be Present

Members of the Board of Education will be present as well as the teaching staff to conduct visitors through the building and explain its operation and answer questions.

The program of entertainment in the afternoon and again in the evening has been so arranged that all will have an opportunity to inspect the building before or after the entertainment. The program will be given from the unusually large stage of the auditorium.

With the exception of the installation of the electrical panel board, which will hook up the phone system in the rooms, all installations are complete. All

Eight Young Folks Hurt in Accident

Car Levels Two Poles Then Hits Tree on Orange Highway

Pine Bush, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Eight young people were injured Saturday night when their car went out of control on Route 302 near this Orange county community, and knocked down two telephone poles before smashing into a tree.

Fire Damages Airliner

New York, April 21 (AP)—A million-dollar Trans World airliner was severely damaged today when flames swept it and a gasoline truck at New York International Airport. Police said the fire, of unknown origin, flared from the truck while it was refueling the four-engined, unoccupied plane. The truck driver, Stanley Orlowski, 28, suffered burns in daringly moving the truck away, but not before the blaze spread to the plane. An airport policeman, William Donnelly, 35, was partially overcome by smoke in helping fight the flames.

Two May Be Called

Washington, April 21 (AP)—Clashing statements by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and former Attorney General McGrath over the Newbold Morris case may bring both Sawyer and his former cabinet colleague before Congress to explain. Sawyer said yesterday on NBC's Meet the Press television program that he had asked McGrath to investigate surplus ship deals involving Morris more than six months before McGrath named Morris as cleanup boss.

Car Overturned

Irma Lock, 29, of Rockaway, suffered cuts and bruises when the automobile she was driving struck an embankment along Route 9W near Glenerie at 6 a. m. Sunday and then overturned onto the northbound lane, state police reported. Cpl. Bernard Herron of the Kingston station said the vehicle was a "total wreck."

All Passengers Saved

Hamburg, Germany, April 21 (AP)—A Hamburg ferry rammed dock pilings as it came into its slip this morning and sank but all 141 persons aboard escaped death and serious injury.

Light Primary Vote Expected in State

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—A light turnout of New York state voters is in prospect for a primary election tomorrow that will stir scarcely a ripple in political currents.

No matter what the vote, delegates from both parties will go to the national conventions in Chicago unrestricted. Moreover, state political leaders in each party already have chosen the candidates they will back for presidential nomination.

Gen. Eisenhower appears to have most of New York's 96 Republican delegates votes in the bag, thanks to the powerful backing of Gov. Dewey. Supporters of Sen. Taft of Ohio claim 20 delegates, but so far, no one has identified them.

On the Democratic side, W. Averell Harriman, mutual security administrator, appears to hold a similarly strong position. He received the endorsement last Friday of 45 Democratic county chairmen.

Voters have demonstrated little interest in the primary. Polls will be open from 3 to 10 p. m. in New York city and from noon to 9 p. m. elsewhere.

Four Persons Are Killed In Racing Car Accident

Dayton, O. April 21 (AP) — A racing car spun crazily out of control into the Dayton speedway grandstand yesterday.

When it came to rest, four persons were dead—including the driver, Gordon Reid, 29, of Burbank, Calif.—and at least 50 spectators were hurt.

It was one of the worst accidents on American tracks since 1929, when four persons were killed and 20 hurt at Winchester, Ind.

The crash lopped off Reid's head. It also decapitated Mrs. Ruby Ellen Shaffer, 43, of Springfield. The other victims were Robert Thatcher, 22, a track guard, and Gene Lawson, 19, of Dayton.

Some among the 14,000 attending the opening AAA sprint car program at the speedway had narrow escapes.

The accident happened during the first trial heat. Reid's racer went out of control near the top of a bank for a turn. It spun through a retaining wall, shot through a standing-room crowd, ploughed into a paint barrel, and hit the grandstand.

Track officials said they did not think Reid's car had mechanical trouble, but they gave no immediate explanation for the crash. Reid was driving a red and white Engle-Stanko special and running third on the fifth lap of the 10-lap heat.

The races resumed 90 minutes later. Joey James of Van Nuys, Calif., won.

Reid's wife, Betty, 26, became hysterical at her home in Burbank, Calif., when told of the accident. They are the parents of four children, the youngest two weeks old.

End to Controls Seen

Washington, April 21 (AP)—An end to government control over installment buying is expected soon, informed officials say. This would mean that there would no longer be any federal regulations over how much you would have to pay down on automobiles, radio and television sets, refrigerators, furniture and other items. And too, there would be no limit fixed on how long—or short—a time you would get to pay back your loans.

Dewey Reported To Have Signed Local Court Bill

Changes Affect Civil Cases, Jurisdiction Over Crimes in City

City Judge Raymond J. Mino said today he had been informed that Governor Thomas E. Dewey had signed a bill authorizing the modernization of the local city court.

Under provisions of the bill, the local court's jurisdiction will be increased to include civil cases up to $1,000 instead of the former limit of $500. Under the law also, citizens of the city will be permitted to institute actions against persons in the county.

Legal practice will now be similar to that in the county and supreme courts, a small claims court will be established, and criminal court judisdiction will be increased to include every misdemeanor occuring within the city.

Judge Mino explained the changes to local aldermen at a Common Council session last month and the changes were approved by the local legislative body.

Another change in city court procedure which is expected to go into effect in the near future will set up a traffic violations bureau for disposing of minor traffic charges. This is expected to go into effect during the summer.

Shadow Is Cast

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—President Truman's seizure of the steel companies is casting a shadow of uncertainty on the rights of about 50,000 New York steelworkers to state compensation and disability benefits. The State Workmen's Compensation Board said Saturday that the legal question involved a determination whether Truman's seizure order made steelworkers in the state employes of the federal government, rather than of the steel companies. However, a board spokesman said the claims under the state laws would be processed and that no freeze order would be slapped on payment of such claims.

Captain Is Due Home

Captain Morton M. Sosna, of 69 Hasbrouck avenue, is due to arrive in San Francisco today, The Associated Press reported this morning. He is aboard the transport General M. C. Meigs carrying 3,246 army rotation combat troops from Korea.

Historical Atom Parachute Drop Is Scheduled Tuesday

120 Selected Troopers Ready for Nuclear Test in Nevada; Weather Vital

Atom Bomb Site, Nev., April 21 (AP)—History's first atomic smoke jumpers, with one eye on the weather, made final preparations today for their spectacular part in Exercise Desert Rock IV.

Scientists and military men promised to provide a nuclear test guaranteed to furnish thrills for more than 300 invited observers tomorrow—if murky clouds and tricky winds will dissipate.

The maneuvers against "enemy" positions behind imaginary hills on Yucca Flat will involve an atom bomb drop of more than ordinary proportions between 9 and 10 a. m., Pacific Standard Time, (12 noon-1 p. m., EST).

Nearly 1,500 troops—dug into four-foot deep foxholes about three miles from ground zero—will atack the enemy positions. As the troops advance to ground zero, four C-46 planes will drop 120 selected paratroopers of the 504th Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division well behind the enemy lines.

Elements Will Combine

Then the two elements will combine to wipe out the enemy stronghold.

That's the tactical problem which has been set up. But if winds run more than 15 miles per hour or clouds continue to hang low, the paratroopers may stay on the ground. A C-47 medical ship will evacuate any casualties.

Ahead of the dug-in combat battalion will be machineguns, small planes and trucks. They will be inspected before the blast, then re-examined afterwards to determine the effects of the thrust, heat and radiation of the bomb.

Press and civilian defense observers will have a grandstand seat eleven miles from ground zero on News Nob, the natural promontory just in front of the control building.

Before ground troops advance or paratroopers jump, radiological safety monitors will move into no-man's land with ion chambers and Geiger counters to make sure that it is safe to occupy. This may be an hour after the detonation.

Brig. Gen. Harry P. Storke, who plans to be in a front-line foxhole, says the maneuver—besides its tactical aspect—also seeks to brace the morale of the atomic GIs and show what equipment can take in a nuclear blast.

The infantrymen might find their advance guns still usable, Gen. Storke says, adding quickly—"if the guns are still there."

About 3,000 troops will stand by at Camp Desert Rock, 20 miles behind the "battlefield," to lend engineering and supply support.

Freedom Refused

Washington, April 21 (AP)—The Supreme Court today refused to free German Countess Marianna Von Moltke from the prison term she drew on charges that she spied for Hitler.

Body of Boy Found in Esopus—Local Man Hurt in 9W Crash

Sirens screamed in almost every section of Ulster county at one time or another during the weekend, as fire trucks, ambulances and police vehicles answered what must have been a record number of emergency calls. Here's the situation at a glance:

1. Robert Mininchelli, four and one-half years old, drowned in the Esopus creek near his home in Saugerties on Saturday. Saugerties firemen, police and state police searched for more than two hours, dragged the body from 20 feet of water at 9:45 p. m.

2. Five automobile accidents were reported with 11 persons listed as injured. Most seriously hurt: Morris Samter of Kingston, reported as "critical" at Kingston Hospital.

3. Stiff winds fanned fires through tinder-dry brush, woods and grass in various sections of the county. Almost every fire company in the Kingston area was called out at least once.

4. Robert Shumate, 27, of Lomontville was accidentally shot in the left ankle while a bull was being butchered on his father's farm Sunday morning, the sheriff's office reported. He was taken to Kingston Hospital.

Boy's Body Recovered

The body of Robert Mininchelli, four and one half years old, was recovered from the Esopus Creek at Saugerties at 9:45 p. m. Sat-

State Fires Are Under Control

Bad Blaze Breaks Out Near Cold Spring at Sugar Loaf

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—New York state fire-fighters had a broad front of forest and brush fires under control today, but warned the danger would continue at least through tomorrow.

Weekend fires ravaged large areas of timber and grassland in the state, as strong winds whipped the flames.

Kinne Williams, state superintendent of forest fire control, said the dry "conditions of Saturday and Sunday will continue through tomorrow."

Only a small fraction of the state's fires had been reported Williams said and no estimate of damage could be made.

He blamed most of the fires on "public disregard of highly hazardous weather and fuel conditions."

Worst of Blazes

The worst of the fires occurred on Long Island, where volunteers no sooner had turned one big blaze away from the Atomic Energy Commission's Brookhaven Laboratories when other flames

Building Is Set Ablaze By Inmates

Brutality Charged

Mutiny Is Based Upon Alleged Treatment by Officials

Jackson, Mich., April 21 (AP)—Six more guards were seized as hostages by mutineers at the state prison of southern Michigan today.

This brought to ten the number of hostages held by the prisoners.

Four other guards had been in the prisoners' custody since last night.

The method of seizure of the additional six was not immediately made clear at the prison.

The first gunfire of the prison riot meanwhile took place.

State police fired four shots when rioters were said to have threatened guards of a work party inside the grounds. The police said the shots were "warning shots" and were fired over the heads of the convicts.

Large Sections Seized

Jackson, Mich., April 21 (AP)—Rioting prisoners seized control of large sections of the big southern Michigan state prison today and set one building on fire in a continuation of an outbreak that began Sunday night.

The bulk of the Michigan state police force was rushed to the scene to guard the beleaguered institution and prevent any possible mass escape attempts.

Half a dozen prison guards had been injured as the rioting spread into mid-morning.

The quartermaster building, containing clothing, was set ablaze.

State police used tear gas to keep some of the rioters from breaking into other cell blocks.

Meantime, another group broke into the prison theatre, seized musical instruments and paraded in the yard.

A night-long mutiny of some of the prison's toughest criminals touched off a series of new disturbances after daybreak.

Four prison guards were held as hostages by the mutineers.

Walls Encircled

State troopers encircled the walls outside. Another 25 troopers, armed with sub-machine guns and tear gas, took stations on the prison roof.

Bedlam held forth within the walls.

At least two prison blocks, including a mental ward, and the mess hall were reported in control of the rioters.

It wrecked block 15, the isolated block where the most dangerous criminals are confined, and where the hostages were held prisoners.

Last night's riot which occurred about 7 o'clock in this block had touched off the series of disturbances.

Another followed at breakfast in the mess hall this morning. Still others took place and finally prisoners swarmed into the big prison yard, taking control there, too.

Hyatt Leads Rioers

Notorious "Crazy Jack" Hyatt, robber who once used a knife to make Gov. G. Mennen Williams his hostage in a futile escape attempt, led the original mutiny.

The mutineers charged prison heads with brutality.

End to Controls Seen

Washington, April 21 (AP)—An end to government control over installment buying is expected soon, informed officials say. This would mean that there would no longer be any federal regulations over how much you would have to pay down on automobiles, radio and television sets, refrigerators, furniture and other items. And too, there would be no limit fixed on how long—or short—a time you would get to pay back your loans.

Four Persons Are Killed In Racing Car Accident

Dayton, O. April 21 (AP) — A racing car spun crazily out of control into the Dayton speedway grandstand yesterday.

When it came to rest, four persons were dead—including the driver, Gordon Reid, 29, of Burbank, Calif.—and at least 50 spectators were hurt.

It was one of the worst accidents on American tracks since 1929, when four persons were killed and 20 hurt at Winchester, Ind.

The crash lopped off Reid's head. It also decapitated Mrs. Ruby Ellen Shaffer, 43, of Springfield. The other victims were Robert Thatcher, 22, a track guard, and Gene Lawson, 19, of Dayton.

Some among the 14,000 attending the opening AAA sprint car program at the speedway had narrow escapes.

The accident happened during the first trial heat. Reid's racer went out of control near the top of a bank for a turn. It spun through a retaining wall, shot through a standing-room crowd, ploughed into a paint barrel, and hit the grandstand.

Track officials said they did not think Reid's car had mechanical trouble, but they gave no immediate explanation for the crash. Reid was driving a red and white Engle-Stanko special and running third on the fifth lap of the 10-lap heat.

The races resumed 90 minutes later. Joey James of Van Nuys, Calif., won.

Reid's wife, Betty, 26, became hysterical at her home in Burbank, Calif., when told of the accident. They are the parents of four children, the youngest two weeks old.

President Warns Against Paralysis

Washington, April 21 (AP) — President Truman told the Senate today that if it restricts use of government funds for operation of the seized steel mills it may result in "paralyzing the operations of the government in an emergency."

In a letter to Vice President Barkley, the President hit out vigorously at Republican-sponsored moves to deny any funds for government operation of the mills.

He said enactment of the GOP proposals might lead to a complete shutdown in steel and "immediately reduce the ability of our troops in Korea to defend themselves against attack."

Further, the President contended, much of the debate on the matter has been of "extreme and misleading character."

He warned:

"If the Communists stage another offensive in Korea this spring, the success or failure of that offensive may well depend on whether or not we have kept our steel mills in operation. This is a consideration over and above the drastic effect a steel shutdown would have on our total defense effort."

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 21 (AP)—The stock market moved higher today after a hesitant start with railroad issues leading the advance.

The pace of trading slowed somewhat as increasing numbers of issues joined the gainers.

It was an ecouraging Monday morning start after last week's losses.

Most of the advances were fractions but there were a goodly number of gains of around a point among the railroad stocks, which were the strongest as a group and had the greatest demand.

Steel stocks—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown—gained fractions as the steel dispute headed for a showdown.

Many traders were cautious in the face of the steel situation but as the session progressed the market became firmer.

Board Has

in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The AP business meeting and luncheon ushered in Newspaper Week in New York. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff to general of the army Dwight D. Eisenhower at supreme headquarters, allied powers in Europe (SHAPE), will speak at the AP luncheon.

Meetings of the American Newspaper Publishers Association will be held tomorrow through Thursday.

In discussing the Oatis case, the AP directors said:

"The United States government appropriately termed the Oatis 'trial' a mockery and travesty on justice. Throughout the free world, expressions of shock and revulsion against Oatis' treatment have been almost universal.

All Has Been Done

"The directors, officers and management of the Associated Press, supported by strong public sentiment everywhere, have done everything within their power to assist Oatis and to obtain his freedom.

"The President of the United States, members of Congress, the Department of State and other agencies of the government have energetically sought his release, along with that of other American citizens illegally held in other countries. Retaliatory measures have been invoked against Czech trade, commerce and transportation, and other efforts, necessarily confidential in character, are the subject of discussion with representatives of the Czech government.

"The Associated Press will continue its efforts and your directors are confident that the government of the United States will explore and exploit any opportunity to end the unjust confinement of our reporter."

Noel Case Cited

The board noted also that Frank Noel, AP photographer, is a prisoner of war in Korea, and it commented that he "has the unique distinction of having been able to continue, at least temporarily, his professional work for the Associated Press while in enemy hands."

As a prisoner, Noel took pictures of other UN prisoners. They were used widely in the nation's press.

"They were passed by both Communist and UN censorship, delivered to the United States, and widely acclaimed by the membership as the first American-made photographs taken in Communist camps," the report said.

The past year was one when many new problems arose "to plague the minds of men and to harry their governments," the board said.

The AP has a larger staff of foreign correspondents today than it had before World War II and is spending nearly three times the 1938 figure for obtaining and transmitting foreign news, the report said.

Newspaper membership during the year increased by 13 to a total of 1,733. There was a net increase of 58 radio station memberships, bringing the total to 1,126. In 72 countries outside the United States, 2,705 newspapers, radio stations and peridicals received AP news and newsphoto services.

At their business meeting, AP members will elect six directors and act on the applications of 16 associate members for regular membership.

Balloting for directors will take place this morning, but the results will not be known until late tonight.

Request Is Made To Process Exams For Service Jobs

The Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today it has asked the state to process a number of examinations for local civil service positions including one to supply an eligibility list for policemen.

The commission, which recently moved its office from the city hall to the municipal building on East O'Reilly street, said it has asked for examinations for laboratory aide, medical stenographer, laboratory technician and blood bank nurse.

An examination for patrolman will be held May 24 at 7:30 p. m., and in June an examination will be held for firemen equipment mechanic, a position left vacant since retirement of Charles Brown.

A list of eligibility with four names is now available for a police department appointment, but the city has two patrolmen vacancies due to the deaths of Joseph Fallon and Harry Martin.

The examination for patrolmen is statewide on the same date.

The city would have had another patrolman vacancy with the advancement of men if a new police captain were appointed, but the police board recently announced it would abolish the rank of captain in the department.

A patrolmen's eligibility list, compiled following an examination in December, is expected to be forwarded soon to the police commissioners.

Hudson Probe Turns to Numbers

Hudson, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—The state-ordered probe of Columbia county gambling apparently turned to the numbers game today.

Three men employed in Edward Dillon's restaurant were called before the special grand jury.

Dillon was convicted last year of operating a numbers game in Hudson. He paid a $500 fine.

Joseph Assed, bartender at Dillon's, was among five who testified before the panel. Under subpoena to appear were Wilbur Hoodmaker and Robert Candlin, also employes of Dillon.

Special Prosecutor Paul W. Williams is directing the inquiry ordered by Gov. Dewey Jan. 3.

Cat Gets Bird

Du Quoin, Ill. (AP)—The Harry Maples suffered a small loss the other day when fire damaged their cabin on the lake. While firemen fought flames, their cat took advantage of the confusion, upset the bird cage and seized their canary.

Real Reason

The tremendous increase in the world's population in recent years is not the result of a rising birth rate, but of a falling death rate.

President Warns Against Paralysis

Washington, April 21 (AP) — President Truman told the Senate today that if it restricts use of government funds for operation of the seized steel mills it may result in "paralyzing the operations of the government in an emergency."

In a letter to Vice President Barkley, the President hit out vigorously at Republican-sponsored moves to deny any funds for government operation of the mills.

He said enactment of the GOP proposals might lead to a complete shutdown in steel and "immediately reduce the ability of our troops in Korea to defend themselves against attack."

Further, the President contended, much of the debate on the matter has been of "extreme and misleading character."

He warned:

"If the Communists stage another offensive in Korea this spring, the success or failure of that offensive may well depend on whether or not we have kept our steel mills in operation. This is a consideration over and above the drastic effect a steel shutdown would have on our total defense effort."

Financial and Commercial

New York, April 21 (AP)—The stock market moved higher today after a hesitant start with railroad issues leading the advance.

The pace of trading slowed somewhat as increasing numbers of issues joined the gainers.

It was an ecouraging Monday morning start after last week's losses.

Most of the advances were fractions but there were a goodly number of gains of around a point among the railroad stocks, which were the strongest as a group and had the greatest demand.

Steel stocks—U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown—gained fractions as the steel dispute headed for a showdown.

Many traders were cautious in the face of the steel situation but as the session progressed the market became firmer.

in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The AP business meeting and luncheon ushered in Newspaper Week in New York. Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, chief of staff to general of the army Dwight D. Eisenhower at supreme headquarters, allied powers in Europe (SHAPE), will speak at the AP luncheon.

Meetings of the American Newspaper Publishers Association will be held tomorrow through Thursday.

In discussing the Oatis case, the AP directors said:

"The United States government appropriately termed the Oatis 'trial' a mockery and travesty on justice. Throughout the free world, expressions of shock and revulsion against Oatis' treatment have been almost universal.

All Has Been Done

"The directors, officers and management of the Associated Press, supported by strong public sentiment everywhere, have done everything within their power to assist Oatis and to obtain his freedom.

"The President of the United States, members of Congress, the Department of State and other agencies of the government have energetically sought his release, along with that of other American citizens illegally held in other countries. Retaliatory measures have been invoked against Czech trade, commerce and transportation, and other efforts, necessarily confidential in character, are the subject of discussion with representatives of the Czech government.

"The Associated Press will continue its efforts and your directors are confident that the government of the United States will explore and exploit any opportunity to end the unjust confinement of our reporter."

Noel Case Cited

The board noted also that Frank Noel, AP photographer, is a prisoner of war in Korea, and it commented that he "has the unique distinction of having been able to continue, at least temporarily, his professional work for the Associated Press while in enemy hands."

As a prisoner, Noel took pictures of other UN prisoners. They were used widely in the nation's press.

"They were passed by both Communist and UN censorship, delivered to the United States, and widely acclaimed by the membership as the first American-made photographs taken in Communist camps," the report said.

The past year was one when many new problems arose "to plague the minds of men and to harry their governments," the board said.

The AP has a larger staff of foreign correspondents today than it had before World War II and is spending nearly three times the 1938 figure for obtaining and transmitting foreign news, the report said.

Newspaper membership during the year increased by 13 to a total of 1,733. There was a net increase of 58 radio station memberships, bringing the total to 1,126. In 72 countries outside the United States, 2,705 newspapers, radio stations and peridicals received AP news and newsphoto services.

At their business meeting, AP members will elect six directors and act on the applications of 16 associate members for regular membership.

Balloting for directors will take place this morning, but the results will not be known until late tonight.

Request Is Made To Process Exams For Service Jobs

The Municipal Civil Service Commission announced today it has asked the state to process a number of examinations for local civil service positions including one to supply an eligibility list for policemen.

The commission, which recently moved its office from the city hall to the municipal building on East O'Reilly street, said it has asked for examinations for laboratory aide, medical stenographer, laboratory technician and blood bank nurse.

An examination for patrolman will be held May 24 at 7:30 p. m., and in June an examination will be held for firemen equipment mechanic, a position left vacant since retirement of Charles Brown.

A list of eligibility with four names is now available for a police department appointment, but the city has two patrolmen vacancies due to the deaths of Joseph Fallon and Harry Martin.

The examination for patrolmen is statewide on the same date.

The city would have had another patrolman vacancy with the advancement of men if a new police captain were appointed, but the police board recently announced it would abolish the rank of captain in the department.

A patrolmen's eligibility list, compiled following an examination in December, is expected to be forwarded soon to the police commissioners.

Hudson Probe Turns to Numbers

Hudson, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—The state-ordered probe of Columbia county gambling apparently turned to the numbers game today.

Three men employed in Edward Dillon's restaurant were called before the special grand jury.

Dillon was convicted last year of operating a numbers game in Hudson. He paid a $500 fine.

Joseph Assed, bartender at Dillon's, was among five who testified before the panel. Under subpoena to appear were Wilbur Hoodmaker and Robert Candlin, also employes of Dillon.

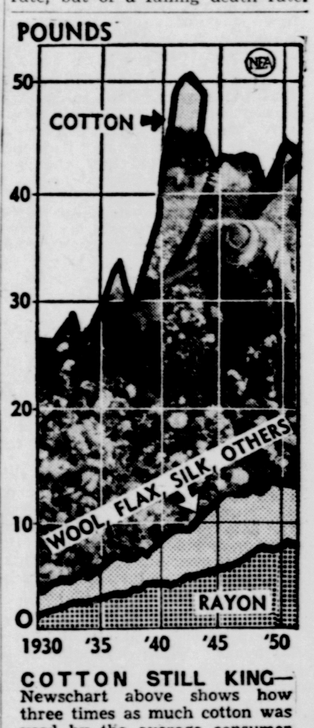

Special Prosecutor Paul W. Williams is directing the inquiry ordered by Gov. Dewey Jan. 3.

Real Reason

The tremendous increase in the world's population in recent years is not the result of a rising birth rate, but of a falling death rate.

County Meeting

A county-wide meeting on Hemerocallis is scheduled for Friday night, April 25, at the First Baptist Church hall in Kingston. Miss Helena Olds, leader in floriculture for the Ulster County Home Bureau, will given an illustrated lecture using colored slides. ## CHECK McGRANERY CASE NOW

And so it comes to pass that Washington, in its wisdom, will have a cabinet appointee passed upon by the department he is supposed to become head of and in which he once was the No. 2 man.

The man is U. S. District Court Judge James P. McGranery of Philadelphia, named by President Truman to be U. S. Attorney General, succeeding J. Howard McGrath.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which must approve the appointment, has asked to see a full and up-to-date F.B.I. check on McGranery, particularly his connection with the Amerasia case. Some senators are predicting privately the committee's look at the record may take weeks.

The Amerasia case, it will be recalled, concerned the World War II theft of secret government documents. McGranery, then with the Justice Department, was in charge of the prosecution of the case.

McGranery later testified before a congressional committee that he made a "deal" with the principal defendant, Philip J. Jaffe, in which the latter pleaded guilty and was fined $2500.

Testimony at the hearings, held in 1946, was withheld from the public for four years, although the committee did issue a general report.

There were some complaints of a whitewash. McGranery defended his action in making the "deal" by stating it was the only way the case could have been handled in view of the legal circumstances.

What we're getting at here, is that it does seem President Truman might have chosen for so ticklish a job as attorney general a man less open to criticism, justified or not, than is McGranery.

McGranery would be stepping into one of the hottest spots in Washington. In fact, the thoroughly singed McGrath suggested to his successor that he bring to the job a pair of asbestos britches.

There's yet another fact which might work against McGranery's effecting a smooth working operation as attorney general. In testifying as to his actions in the Amerasia case he blamed the weakness of his position as head prosecutor on bungling by the F.B.I. in obtaining evidence.

J. Edgar Hoover, F.B.I. head, isn't likely to forget that criticism, which could bring on a situation not entirely conducive to good Justice Department morale.

But the main thing is that the people of America are getting pretty well fed up with the kind of bungling and worse which has been taking place in Washington.

They deserve better and sooner or later they're going to get it. If the appointment of McGranery is a step in the right direction, all right. But if it isn't the people responsible should make every effort to establish that fact.

A long look at the facts now can save a lot of headaches later. And headaches right now are what the country has just about all it can take.

CONGRESSIONAL MAIL

A record amount of free mail is being sent by Congressmen to voters in the hope that they can attract attention to themselves or to their party candidates. This propaganda is costing the taxpayers an estimated $20,000 merely to fold and stuff envelopes. While some of this literature may be worth attention, a great deal of it is a bald attempt to influence public opinion at public expense.

The amount of mail leaving Washington has grown so great that bickering has sprung up between Congressmen who feel that they are not receiving their share of service from folding and mailing room employes. It seems to have escaped the Congressmen that the purpose of the franking and mailing privilege is to allow Congressmen to inform and assist constituents, and not to practice electioneering at a minimum personal cost.

Taxpayers are a patient lot. But Congress should realize that their patience is not inexhaustible. The printing on the propaganda leaflets mailed at the taxpayers' expense could well turn out to be the writing on the political wall for some who seek re-election.

THE CASE OF ELIA KAZAN

Among the problems facing motion pictures, radio and television is the unwillingness of many Americans to pay their money for entertainment with which persons accused of Communist Affiliations have anything to do. This has become more complicated since some voluntary organizations of the people throw picket lines around houses showing motion pictures so involved. It makes the product defective because it encounters unusual sales resistance.

On the other hand, some persons have been seeking ways and mean of clearing themselves. They hired lawyers, public relations counsel and fixers. They ran down to congressional committees for special hearings, issuing the published reports as though that cleared them. No congressional committee is empowered to clear a witness. All that such a committee can do is to publish the hearings and the findings. Some even falsely stated that the FBI had cleared them of the Communist taint, although such a function has never been delegated to the FBI.

Unfortunately, for a long time the management of the motion picture industry viewed this problem as a nuisance which interfered with their earnings. Most of their efforts to solve it failed because they did not recognize the fundamental proposition that whatever record exists was made by the individual concerned; that only he or she can set the record straight.

Last summer, some motion picture persons and a few anti-Communists entered upon discussions which involved certain techniques of life that have had long application. Confession, contrition and penitence are universal among human beings. But these processes are only of value if they are voluntary and if they safeguard human dignity.

Furthermore, it has been known that while a number of persons were sucked into the Communist orbit in the 1930's and moved through Rooseveltian liberalism in the 1940's, the Korean War opened their eyes to the absurdity of their views on Russia. Many emotions enter into such a situation, particularly among artists and intellectuals. It takes a truly great soul to admit that he had been a fool. St. Augustine did it and Tolstoy did it. But few men are of their stature.

So, a device was worked out to give a man a chance to set himself right by his own means, without the intervention of any third person. No formula was adopted, for none was necessary. If a man wants to tell the truth, he needs no assistance.

In the instance of the motion picture people, it was suggested that they write letters to their employers or to anyone of their selection. The employers were best, because they could make the letters available to interested parties.

It was preferred that this should be a studio rather than an industry task, because it seemed undesirable to set up a bureau and to hire checkers, clearers, private detectives and such persons. The real task is to avoid coercion, pressure, moneypayments, or anything of the sort. Only a voluntary approach to a changed life can produce the truth.

Among the anti-Communists there are many sincere persons who question the bona fides of some conversions. Yet, the fact remains that the converts from Communism have done an invaluable service in the exposure of the operations of the Communist conspiracy.

Now, we come to Elia Kazan. This man was a Communist from 1934 to 1936 by his own admission. He has appeared in executive session before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, where his testimony was incomplete. Subsequently he filed an affidavit completing his story. He said:

"For the approximately 19 months of my membership, I was assigned to a 'unit' composed of those party members who were, like myself, members of the Group Theatre acting company. . . ."

He stated that his unit was asked to do the following:

"1) To 'educate' ourselves in Marxist and party doctrine.

"2) To help the party get a foothold in the Actors Equity Association.

"3) To support various 'front' organizations of the party.

"4) To try to capture the Group Theatre and make it a Communist mouthpiece."

It is most important that these men and women who speak out should continue to work. I am told by a fighting anti-Communist group in Hollywood that about 100 movie peope are ready to testify or to write letters but that they are frightened by the mad treatment meted out to those who have already spoken. Those who show sincerity should be met more than half-way.

LYING ON ABDOMEN

I have written before of the real help to digestion obtained by lying on the right side for 10 minutes before a meal. This means that the tube carrying the food from the stomach to small intestine in which most of the digestion occurs, allows the food remaining in the stomach to flow out. The stomach is then empty, and is ready for the next meal. Experiments at Vassar College some years ago showed that after eating a meal, students lying on the left side had a delay of nearly two hours before food started to undergo stomach movements and flow from stomach, whereas lying on right side gave immediate action to stomach movements.

It should be of interest to all of us to learn that lying on the abdomen also is beneficial. In the Munich Medical Journal, Dr. R. Stahl states that in 1923 Dr. Rautenberg used the prone position in treating pulmonary or chest disorders where fluid was beginning to form, and described his results as life-saving. Dr. Stahl observed patients with tuberculosis of the spine at Rollier's clinic in Leysin who were kept lying on the abdomen from eight to 12 hours a day. The X-ray reveals that lying on the back (supine position) did not widen or enlarge the lung space any more than the sitting position but when lying on the stomach (prone position), the lung space was larger in all forms of lung ailments. This extra space means more circulation of air and blood in the lower lobe of the lung.

This posture—lying on abdomen—can be tried in most patients except when wounds, pus formation, or arthritis makes it impossible or when severe insufficiency (congestion of lung), breathlessness or a tendency to apoplexy are present.

By lying on abdomen, the musculature is strengthened. In addition the metabolism (building up and tearing down of body tissues) is stimulated and complications resulting from prolonged lying on back are prevented. This postion makes it easier for the patient to get rid of mucus, pus and other fluids from the lungs, bronchial tubes and mouth.

A flat mattress and a wedge-shaped cushion are placed under the chest so that patient can lean his elbows over it. The head is held up but is not supported. Patients can read, write or do handicraft work from this positfon. This prone position strengthens the muscles of neck, shoulders, arms and back.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Paris—Most of the newsmen around Paris seem to think that the most important story in Europe is Eisenhower—when he will leave, where he will speak, what he had for breakfast. I don't think so. To me, the most important story on either side of the Atlantic today is that the peace of Europe may be within our grasp.

Peace can be made or unmade within the next few months. And it's unfortunate that Eisenhower is leaving at this crucial time, when a push here or his persuasive influence there could make such a difference for future war or peace.

The vital fact to be remembered about Europe today is that for 80 years men have been marching into battle on either side of the Rhine and now, for the first time in 80 years, they plan to organize on both sides of the Rhine under one army wearing the same uniform.

Eisenhower did not conceive this idea of a unified European army. The diplomats conceived it, notably Robert Schuman of France. But Ike has given it its longest push forward, and if the final push can be given in the next few weeks it will be more important to his grandchildren than his becoming president. That's why future historians may write that Eisenhower's departure at this particular moment influenced the future of Europe for better or for worse and for a long time to come.

Moscow Fears Unified Europe

How strong the drive is toward a unified Europe may be judged by the drive of the men in the Kremlin to head it off. Nobody knows better than they what a united Europe under one army would do, first, to European defense, and second, to the fight against communism. That's why peace in Korea, elections in east Germany, the evacuation of the Red army from east Germany, even the return of east Prussia to Germany all were involved in the Kremlin's efforts to block the new accord between France and Germany.

It's a race for unity by the allies and a race against unity by the Kremlin, with Moscow ready to throw most of its most important blue chips into the pot to block the dreaded idea of France and Germany defending each other from the common enemy with a common army.

Unfortunately, Moscow has some potent allies—even including a few in the United States. Here is a roll-call of the people and factors lined up with Moscow to defeat the most important step toward world peace in eighty years:

ALLY No. 1—Is corruption in the U. S. A. After World War 1 a great leader, Woodrow Wilson, got sick and with him sickened the world's aspirations for peace. After World War 2 the administration in Washington swallowed too much corruption and became sick. With that sickness evaporated its prestige for leadership, its ability to influence foreign policy, and its power to obtain congressional appropriations. Also another great man got sick—Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, the Republican who had kept his party from kicking foreign policy all over the political gridiron.

Mr. Truman, whose ideas on foreign policy are excellent, may never know how much he has hurt his own great goals for peace by failing to clean up the corruption in his administration, and by letting public attention focus on that corruption rather than on world unity.

ALLY No. 2—Is French fear and apathy. Though he lives with a potential enemy across the border and though his land has suffered two devastating invasions in three decades, there is no man more provincial than the Frenchman. And today, though most French leaders are for unity with Germany, the man in the street is skeptical. "Do not arm Germany with anything more than a wooden sword," he says.

The average Frenchman not only fears Germany but he is apathetic about the whole business of peace. He is like many Americans today—tired of paying high taxes, against peacetime military conscription, opposed to having American or any foreign troops on French soil.

ALLY No. 3—Is the German Socialists. They are deadly opposed to German rearmament of any kind; in fact, German youth have laid down in the streets to demonstrate against the proposed German army. So far, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who favors a European army, has the majority of West Germany with him, but his margin of votes is dangerously slim.

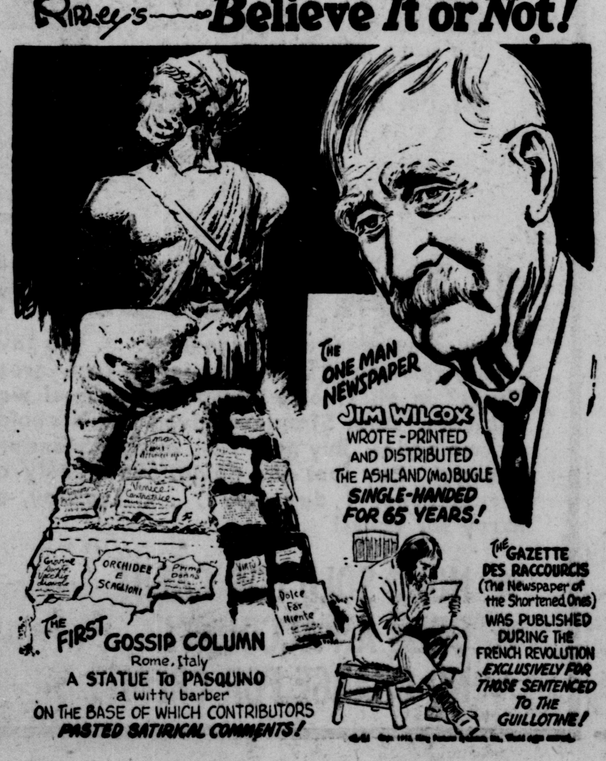

ALLY No. 4—Is a religious one. It's the opposition of French Socialists to a west European army, which they claim would be an arm of the Catholic church.

Fear Rome's Domination

Jules Moch, former French minister of defense and leading Socialist, outlined this view recently to the American officers at SHAPE. He pointed out that Foreign Minister Schuman and Georges Bidault, the French architects of the unified army, were strong leaders of the Catholic party, that Adenauer was a leader of the Catholic party in Germany, that Premier Alcide De Gasperi of Italy was trained in the Vatican, and that the leaders of the Belgian government are strong Catholics. Therefore, the members of the French Socialist party, he said, were opposed to creating an army that might be dominated by Rome.

The French Socialists, Moch said, were counting on Protestant England to counterbalance this, but, with England out of the European army the Socialist party of France would vote "no" when it came to ratifying the army plan. While Moch's view represents a minority, nevertheless it is significant—because the French government cannot get parliamentary approval of a unified army without the Socialist votes. Thus it may be that France, which originally proposed an army fighting under one uniform, may be the country finally to reject it. Thus also, Eisenhower, who now faces the first political battle of his career, may be leaving just as the greatest achievement of his career—the peace and unity of Europe—stands in need of greatest help.

President's Act Seen as Serious Blow to American Trade Unionism

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 21—President Truman has been set for several days now to deliver the worst blow to trade unionism that has been directed its way since the days before the passage of the Wagner Labor Relations Law in 1935. That law and its successor—The Taft-Hartley Act—has proclaimed collective bargaining as the national policy in labor-management relations but collective bargaining as a principle is now to be ignored.

Mr. Truman has let it be known that herafter the strong hand of government with compulsory arbitration and government-chosen arbitrators is the order of the day, just as it is in totalitarian governments.

Unless the steel companies at the last moment consent to be bludgeoned, it is their turn to be deprived of collective bargaining just as the railroad brotherhoods have been treated ever since the government seized the railroads in August, 1950—a continuing operation to date.

While the president took a portion of the terms recommended by a board in the railroad settlement and imposed them on the unions, he had a law—the statute of 1916—to justify his action. Today he has no law of any kind to justify seizure or the payment of money for higher wages out of the treasuries of the steel companies.

The steel companies and their lawyers have been ready for days to go to court but not as the administration has thought merely to offer a plea that their funds were being paid out without their consent. The plea is that irreparable damage will have been done through the destruction of collective bargaining itself. For the steel companies now can never be turned back to their owners in the same status as when they were seized, even if the money paid out is recovered from the government. They will have lost their bargaining power and there will be no basis for the carrying on collective bargaining to settle the steel dispute.

Thus, for example, many employers in a labor dispute are willing to grant three demands provided two others are dropped—a natural development when two parties are trading or bargaining with each other. But what is left to bargain about if the government steps in and automatically orders the companies to grant three of the demands without exacting any commitment that the other two will ever be dropped? The economic leverage so important in any negotiation then vanishes. This is what the courts will be asked to recognise as "irreparable damage."

What the trade unions apparently don't realize is that if collective bargaining can be demolished that way once it can happen again and again. Actually the trade-union leaders of the AFL and national unions independent of the CIO and AFL are strangely silent as before their very eyes the process of collective bargaining is being discredited by President Truman himself.

Incidentally the railroad brotherhoods can now point with justified criticism to the silence exhibited by management generally when the government took over the railroads and then ordered a part payment of wages. This has led to a drifting situation with no settlement. It has led to attempts at reprisals by confiscationist senators who want to impound the incomes and net profits of the railroads and keep dividends away from the stockholders as a means of forcing a settlement. Neither method — the part payment of wage increases ordered by a government board or the impounding of company funds—is the answer.

The seizure of the railroads and now the steel plants is evidence of the utter incompetence of the Truman administration. The President is being called a "dictator" but the name is wrongly applied. Mr. Truman isn't himself a dictator. He is a puppet whose weakness is preyed upon by the trade unions. The dictatorship today is by the CIO and its agents in government who play the CIO game so skillfully that Mr. Truman doesn't know what it all means. He is like putty in the hands of the group which, having supplied campaign funds to help him win the 1948 election, is now collecting the favors it wants. This is what the economic barons used to do under Republican administrations when they exacted tariff concessions because of their big campaign contributions. Two wrongs do not make a right. John Lewis, who headed up the CIO in the '30's, admits that he loaned the Roosevelt administration $500,000 in the campaign of 1936 and Mr. Lewis indignantly denounced Mr. Roosevelt later for failing to come through.

Mr. Truman is more faithful to political allies but the extremes to which he is going will hurt trade unionism in the long run and will not solve the bitter disputes that are arising in the basic industries of America. Dictatorship by labor unions can be as bad as dictatorship by big business and it will be a sad day for America if the next election merely transfers the powers of dictatorship from one economic group to the other. Mr. Truman is contributing some important precedents for the future.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

We were talking about a Guest Book that should be at the City Hall so that visitors being given the honors by the mayor could sign in it. For instance it would have had Babe Ruth's signature dated October 16, 1926, one ball fan said. Too bad such a book does not exist up to now, perhaps some day someone will donate a good substantial book for that purpose, strange things like that sometimes do happen.

TV is close to a reality in Kingston. In fact I think I read it in one of the magazines sometime ago, that in the future arrangements would or could be made through the telephone that feature pictures played in local movie houses could be pipped into homes and be paid through the telephone bill. I wonder how many folks remember when the Broadway Theatre was formally opened June 9, 1927 by Mayor E. J. Dempsey. That was a big event in Kingston. Tom Crosby at the organ, and Jacob Mollott led the orchestra as I remember. It seems Cradle Snatchers was on the screen. Harry Lazarus was the manager at the time. There is something about a theatre with a balcony. I have always liked to sit in the front row of any balcony with no one in front of me except the aisle. I remember when the Orpheum Theatre had a balcony and of course the old Opera House on corner John and Fair streets. As a rule in a balcony it was warmer in the winter especially when you sit still for a long time. If my feet are warm, I am warm all over. Never could enjoy even a good picture with cold feet on a cement floor.

From time to time I am asked how far back do the Kingston directories go. Well, the oldest one I have had my hands on was the Boyd's Kingston and Rondout Directory of 1857-8. It was loaned to me by A. P. Marquart. I think the library has one, also the Senate House Museum no doubt. I certainly would like to own one. I think the oldest I have is a 1910, when my father opened his drug store downtown. Although I have heard of old city directories being thrown out, I wish someone would throw some old ones my way, for they certainly are useful to me. I was given some by the Girard L. McEntee and Son Insurance Co. some time ago, and think of them, every time I use them.

I was asked the other day about the house mover famous in the olden days. His name was John Bell Crispell and he was written up in this column Feb. 3 and Feb. 2, 1950. For those not in the know, Crispell did not move furniture but moved the whole house. In fact, it is said, he could cut a house in half and move either half. The Everett Brothers were house wreckers, that is, they take down a house window by window and door by door. I know Chris Everett. He has much information on the old houses he took down in and around Kingston. No doubt, his diary, if he has one, would be interesting for historical purposes if he wrote down, day by day what houses he took down and what he found. From time to time such information is brought to me, and I try to incorporate it in this column, as I feel once it is printed it is preserved for as long as there are newspaper files and records.

CHECK McGRANERY CASE NOW

And so it comes to pass that Washington, in its wisdom, will have a cabinet appointee passed upon by the department he is supposed to become head of and in which he once was the No. 2 man.

The man is U. S. District Court Judge James P. McGranery of Philadelphia, named by President Truman to be U. S. Attorney General, succeeding J. Howard McGrath.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, which must approve the appointment, has asked to see a full and up-to-date F.B.I. check on McGranery, particularly his connection with the Amerasia case. Some senators are predicting privately the committee's look at the record may take weeks.

The Amerasia case, it will be recalled, concerned the World War II theft of secret government documents. McGranery, then with the Justice Department, was in charge of the prosecution of the case.

McGranery later testified before a congressional committee that he made a "deal" with the principal defendant, Philip J. Jaffe, in which the latter pleaded guilty and was fined $2500.

Testimony at the hearings, held in 1946, was withheld from the public for four years, although the committee did issue a general report.

There were some complaints of a whitewash. McGranery defended his action in making the "deal" by stating it was the only way the case could have been handled in view of the legal circumstances.

What we're getting at here, is that it does seem President Truman might have chosen for so ticklish a job as attorney general a man less open to criticism, justified or not, than is McGranery.

McGranery would be stepping into one of the hottest spots in Washington. In fact, the thoroughly singed McGrath suggested to his successor that he bring to the job a pair of asbestos britches.

There's yet another fact which might work against McGranery's effecting a smooth working operation as attorney general. In testifying as to his actions in the Amerasia case he blamed the weakness of his position as head prosecutor on bungling by the F.B.I. in obtaining evidence.

J. Edgar Hoover, F.B.I. head, isn't likely to forget that criticism, which could bring on a situation not entirely conducive to good Justice Department morale.

But the main thing is that the people of America are getting pretty well fed up with the kind of bungling and worse which has been taking place in Washington.

They deserve better and sooner or later they're going to get it. If the appointment of McGranery is a step in the right direction, all right. But if it isn't the people responsible should make every effort to establish that fact.

A long look at the facts now can save a lot of headaches later. And headaches right now are what the country has just about all it can take.

CONGRESSIONAL MAIL

A record amount of free mail is being sent by Congressmen to voters in the hope that they can attract attention to themselves or to their party candidates. This propaganda is costing the taxpayers an estimated $20,000 merely to fold and stuff envelopes. While some of this literature may be worth attention, a great deal of it is a bald attempt to influence public opinion at public expense.

The amount of mail leaving Washington has grown so great that bickering has sprung up between Congressmen who feel that they are not receiving their share of service from folding and mailing room employes. It seems to have escaped the Congressmen that the purpose of the franking and mailing privilege is to allow Congressmen to inform and assist constituents, and not to practice electioneering at a minimum personal cost.

Taxpayers are a patient lot. But Congress should realize that their patience is not inexhaustible. The printing on the propaganda leaflets mailed at the taxpayers' expense could well turn out to be the writing on the political wall for some who seek re-election.

THE CASE OF ELIA KAZAN

Among the problems facing motion pictures, radio and television is the unwillingness of many Americans to pay their money for entertainment with which persons accused of Communist Affiliations have anything to do. This has become more complicated since some voluntary organizations of the people throw picket lines around houses showing motion pictures so involved. It makes the product defective because it encounters unusual sales resistance.

On the other hand, some persons have been seeking ways and mean of clearing themselves. They hired lawyers, public relations counsel and fixers. They ran down to congressional committees for special hearings, issuing the published reports as though that cleared them. No congressional committee is empowered to clear a witness. All that such a committee can do is to publish the hearings and the findings. Some even falsely stated that the FBI had cleared them of the Communist taint, although such a function has never been delegated to the FBI.

Unfortunately, for a long time the management of the motion picture industry viewed this problem as a nuisance which interfered with their earnings. Most of their efforts to solve it failed because they did not recognize the fundamental proposition that whatever record exists was made by the individual concerned; that only he or she can set the record straight.

Last summer, some motion picture persons and a few anti-Communists entered upon discussions which involved certain techniques of life that have had long application. Confession, contrition and penitence are universal among human beings. But these processes are only of value if they are voluntary and if they safeguard human dignity.

Furthermore, it has been known that while a number of persons were sucked into the Communist orbit in the 1930's and moved through Rooseveltian liberalism in the 1940's, the Korean War opened their eyes to the absurdity of their views on Russia. Many emotions enter into such a situation, particularly among artists and intellectuals. It takes a truly great soul to admit that he had been a fool. St. Augustine did it and Tolstoy did it. But few men are of their stature.

So, a device was worked out to give a man a chance to set himself right by his own means, without the intervention of any third person. No formula was adopted, for none was necessary. If a man wants to tell the truth, he needs no assistance.

In the instance of the motion picture people, it was suggested that they write letters to their employers or to anyone of their selection. The employers were best, because they could make the letters available to interested parties.

It was preferred that this should be a studio rather than an industry task, because it seemed undesirable to set up a bureau and to hire checkers, clearers, private detectives and such persons. The real task is to avoid coercion, pressure, moneypayments, or anything of the sort. Only a voluntary approach to a changed life can produce the truth.

Among the anti-Communists there are many sincere persons who question the bona fides of some conversions. Yet, the fact remains that the converts from Communism have done an invaluable service in the exposure of the operations of the Communist conspiracy.

Now, we come to Elia Kazan. This man was a Communist from 1934 to 1936 by his own admission. He has appeared in executive session before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, where his testimony was incomplete. Subsequently he filed an affidavit completing his story. He said:

"For the approximately 19 months of my membership, I was assigned to a 'unit' composed of those party members who were, like myself, members of the Group Theatre acting company. . . ."

He stated that his unit was asked to do the following:

"1) To 'educate' ourselves in Marxist and party doctrine.

"2) To help the party get a foothold in the Actors Equity Association.

"3) To support various 'front' organizations of the party.

"4) To try to capture the Group Theatre and make it a Communist mouthpiece."

It is most important that these men and women who speak out should continue to work. I am told by a fighting anti-Communist group in Hollywood that about 100 movie peope are ready to testify or to write letters but that they are frightened by the mad treatment meted out to those who have already spoken. Those who show sincerity should be met more than half-way.

LYING ON ABDOMEN

I have written before of the real help to digestion obtained by lying on the right side for 10 minutes before a meal. This means that the tube carrying the food from the stomach to small intestine in which most of the digestion occurs, allows the food remaining in the stomach to flow out. The stomach is then empty, and is ready for the next meal. Experiments at Vassar College some years ago showed that after eating a meal, students lying on the left side had a delay of nearly two hours before food started to undergo stomach movements and flow from stomach, whereas lying on right side gave immediate action to stomach movements.

It should be of interest to all of us to learn that lying on the abdomen also is beneficial. In the Munich Medical Journal, Dr. R. Stahl states that in 1923 Dr. Rautenberg used the prone position in treating pulmonary or chest disorders where fluid was beginning to form, and described his results as life-saving. Dr. Stahl observed patients with tuberculosis of the spine at Rollier's clinic in Leysin who were kept lying on the abdomen from eight to 12 hours a day. The X-ray reveals that lying on the back (supine position) did not widen or enlarge the lung space any more than the sitting position but when lying on the stomach (prone position), the lung space was larger in all forms of lung ailments. This extra space means more circulation of air and blood in the lower lobe of the lung.

This posture—lying on abdomen—can be tried in most patients except when wounds, pus formation, or arthritis makes it impossible or when severe insufficiency (congestion of lung), breathlessness or a tendency to apoplexy are present.

By lying on abdomen, the musculature is strengthened. In addition the metabolism (building up and tearing down of body tissues) is stimulated and complications resulting from prolonged lying on back are prevented. This postion makes it easier for the patient to get rid of mucus, pus and other fluids from the lungs, bronchial tubes and mouth.

A flat mattress and a wedge-shaped cushion are placed under the chest so that patient can lean his elbows over it. The head is held up but is not supported. Patients can read, write or do handicraft work from this positfon. This prone position strengthens the muscles of neck, shoulders, arms and back.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Paris—Most of the newsmen around Paris seem to think that the most important story in Europe is Eisenhower—when he will leave, where he will speak, what he had for breakfast. I don't think so. To me, the most important story on either side of the Atlantic today is that the peace of Europe may be within our grasp.

Peace can be made or unmade within the next few months. And it's unfortunate that Eisenhower is leaving at this crucial time, when a push here or his persuasive influence there could make such a difference for future war or peace.

The vital fact to be remembered about Europe today is that for 80 years men have been marching into battle on either side of the Rhine and now, for the first time in 80 years, they plan to organize on both sides of the Rhine under one army wearing the same uniform.

Eisenhower did not conceive this idea of a unified European army. The diplomats conceived it, notably Robert Schuman of France. But Ike has given it its longest push forward, and if the final push can be given in the next few weeks it will be more important to his grandchildren than his becoming president. That's why future historians may write that Eisenhower's departure at this particular moment influenced the future of Europe for better or for worse and for a long time to come.

Moscow Fears Unified Europe

How strong the drive is toward a unified Europe may be judged by the drive of the men in the Kremlin to head it off. Nobody knows better than they what a united Europe under one army would do, first, to European defense, and second, to the fight against communism. That's why peace in Korea, elections in east Germany, the evacuation of the Red army from east Germany, even the return of east Prussia to Germany all were involved in the Kremlin's efforts to block the new accord between France and Germany.

It's a race for unity by the allies and a race against unity by the Kremlin, with Moscow ready to throw most of its most important blue chips into the pot to block the dreaded idea of France and Germany defending each other from the common enemy with a common army.

Unfortunately, Moscow has some potent allies—even including a few in the United States. Here is a roll-call of the people and factors lined up with Moscow to defeat the most important step toward world peace in eighty years:

ALLY No. 1—Is corruption in the U. S. A. After World War 1 a great leader, Woodrow Wilson, got sick and with him sickened the world's aspirations for peace. After World War 2 the administration in Washington swallowed too much corruption and became sick. With that sickness evaporated its prestige for leadership, its ability to influence foreign policy, and its power to obtain congressional appropriations. Also another great man got sick—Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan, the Republican who had kept his party from kicking foreign policy all over the political gridiron.

Mr. Truman, whose ideas on foreign policy are excellent, may never know how much he has hurt his own great goals for peace by failing to clean up the corruption in his administration, and by letting public attention focus on that corruption rather than on world unity.

ALLY No. 2—Is French fear and apathy. Though he lives with a potential enemy across the border and though his land has suffered two devastating invasions in three decades, there is no man more provincial than the Frenchman. And today, though most French leaders are for unity with Germany, the man in the street is skeptical. "Do not arm Germany with anything more than a wooden sword," he says.

The average Frenchman not only fears Germany but he is apathetic about the whole business of peace. He is like many Americans today—tired of paying high taxes, against peacetime military conscription, opposed to having American or any foreign troops on French soil.

ALLY No. 3—Is the German Socialists. They are deadly opposed to German rearmament of any kind; in fact, German youth have laid down in the streets to demonstrate against the proposed German army. So far, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who favors a European army, has the majority of West Germany with him, but his margin of votes is dangerously slim.

ALLY No. 4—Is a religious one. It's the opposition of French Socialists to a west European army, which they claim would be an arm of the Catholic church.

Fear Rome's Domination

Jules Moch, former French minister of defense and leading Socialist, outlined this view recently to the American officers at SHAPE. He pointed out that Foreign Minister Schuman and Georges Bidault, the French architects of the unified army, were strong leaders of the Catholic party, that Adenauer was a leader of the Catholic party in Germany, that Premier Alcide De Gasperi of Italy was trained in the Vatican, and that the leaders of the Belgian government are strong Catholics. Therefore, the members of the French Socialist party, he said, were opposed to creating an army that might be dominated by Rome.

The French Socialists, Moch said, were counting on Protestant England to counterbalance this, but, with England out of the European army the Socialist party of France would vote "no" when it came to ratifying the army plan. While Moch's view represents a minority, nevertheless it is significant—because the French government cannot get parliamentary approval of a unified army without the Socialist votes. Thus it may be that France, which originally proposed an army fighting under one uniform, may be the country finally to reject it. Thus also, Eisenhower, who now faces the first political battle of his career, may be leaving just as the greatest achievement of his career—the peace and unity of Europe—stands in need of greatest help.

President's Act Seen as Serious Blow to American Trade Unionism

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, April 21—President Truman has been set for several days now to deliver the worst blow to trade unionism that has been directed its way since the days before the passage of the Wagner Labor Relations Law in 1935. That law and its successor—The Taft-Hartley Act—has proclaimed collective bargaining as the national policy in labor-management relations but collective bargaining as a principle is now to be ignored.

Mr. Truman has let it be known that herafter the strong hand of government with compulsory arbitration and government-chosen arbitrators is the order of the day, just as it is in totalitarian governments.

Unless the steel companies at the last moment consent to be bludgeoned, it is their turn to be deprived of collective bargaining just as the railroad brotherhoods have been treated ever since the government seized the railroads in August, 1950—a continuing operation to date.

While the president took a portion of the terms recommended by a board in the railroad settlement and imposed them on the unions, he had a law—the statute of 1916—to justify his action. Today he has no law of any kind to justify seizure or the payment of money for higher wages out of the treasuries of the steel companies.

The steel companies and their lawyers have been ready for days to go to court but not as the administration has thought merely to offer a plea that their funds were being paid out without their consent. The plea is that irreparable damage will have been done through the destruction of collective bargaining itself. For the steel companies now can never be turned back to their owners in the same status as when they were seized, even if the money paid out is recovered from the government. They will have lost their bargaining power and there will be no basis for the carrying on collective bargaining to settle the steel dispute.

Thus, for example, many employers in a labor dispute are willing to grant three demands provided two others are dropped—a natural development when two parties are trading or bargaining with each other. But what is left to bargain about if the government steps in and automatically orders the companies to grant three of the demands without exacting any commitment that the other two will ever be dropped? The economic leverage so important in any negotiation then vanishes. This is what the courts will be asked to recognise as "irreparable damage."

What the trade unions apparently don't realize is that if collective bargaining can be demolished that way once it can happen again and again. Actually the trade-union leaders of the AFL and national unions independent of the CIO and AFL are strangely silent as before their very eyes the process of collective bargaining is being discredited by President Truman himself.

Incidentally the railroad brotherhoods can now point with justified criticism to the silence exhibited by management generally when the government took over the railroads and then ordered a part payment of wages. This has led to a drifting situation with no settlement. It has led to attempts at reprisals by confiscationist senators who want to impound the incomes and net profits of the railroads and keep dividends away from the stockholders as a means of forcing a settlement. Neither method — the part payment of wage increases ordered by a government board or the impounding of company funds—is the answer.

The seizure of the railroads and now the steel plants is evidence of the utter incompetence of the Truman administration. The President is being called a "dictator" but the name is wrongly applied. Mr. Truman isn't himself a dictator. He is a puppet whose weakness is preyed upon by the trade unions. The dictatorship today is by the CIO and its agents in government who play the CIO game so skillfully that Mr. Truman doesn't know what it all means. He is like putty in the hands of the group which, having supplied campaign funds to help him win the 1948 election, is now collecting the favors it wants. This is what the economic barons used to do under Republican administrations when they exacted tariff concessions because of their big campaign contributions. Two wrongs do not make a right. John Lewis, who headed up the CIO in the '30's, admits that he loaned the Roosevelt administration $500,000 in the campaign of 1936 and Mr. Lewis indignantly denounced Mr. Roosevelt later for failing to come through.

Mr. Truman is more faithful to political allies but the extremes to which he is going will hurt trade unionism in the long run and will not solve the bitter disputes that are arising in the basic industries of America. Dictatorship by labor unions can be as bad as dictatorship by big business and it will be a sad day for America if the next election merely transfers the powers of dictatorship from one economic group to the other. Mr. Truman is contributing some important precedents for the future.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

We were talking about a Guest Book that should be at the City Hall so that visitors being given the honors by the mayor could sign in it. For instance it would have had Babe Ruth's signature dated October 16, 1926, one ball fan said. Too bad such a book does not exist up to now, perhaps some day someone will donate a good substantial book for that purpose, strange things like that sometimes do happen.

TV is close to a reality in Kingston. In fact I think I read it in one of the magazines sometime ago, that in the future arrangements would or could be made through the telephone that feature pictures played in local movie houses could be pipped into homes and be paid through the telephone bill. I wonder how many folks remember when the Broadway Theatre was formally opened June 9, 1927 by Mayor E. J. Dempsey. That was a big event in Kingston. Tom Crosby at the organ, and Jacob Mollott led the orchestra as I remember. It seems Cradle Snatchers was on the screen. Harry Lazarus was the manager at the time. There is something about a theatre with a balcony. I have always liked to sit in the front row of any balcony with no one in front of me except the aisle. I remember when the Orpheum Theatre had a balcony and of course the old Opera House on corner John and Fair streets. As a rule in a balcony it was warmer in the winter especially when you sit still for a long time. If my feet are warm, I am warm all over. Never could enjoy even a good picture with cold feet on a cement floor.

From time to time I am asked how far back do the Kingston directories go. Well, the oldest one I have had my hands on was the Boyd's Kingston and Rondout Directory of 1857-8. It was loaned to me by A. P. Marquart. I think the library has one, also the Senate House Museum no doubt. I certainly would like to own one. I think the oldest I have is a 1910, when my father opened his drug store downtown. Although I have heard of old city directories being thrown out, I wish someone would throw some old ones my way, for they certainly are useful to me. I was given some by the Girard L. McEntee and Son Insurance Co. some time ago, and think of them, every time I use them.

I was asked the other day about the house mover famous in the olden days. His name was John Bell Crispell and he was written up in this column Feb. 3 and Feb. 2, 1950. For those not in the know, Crispell did not move furniture but moved the whole house. In fact, it is said, he could cut a house in half and move either half. The Everett Brothers were house wreckers, that is, they take down a house window by window and door by door. I know Chris Everett. He has much information on the old houses he took down in and around Kingston. No doubt, his diary, if he has one, would be interesting for historical purposes if he wrote down, day by day what houses he took down and what he found. From time to time such information is brought to me, and I try to incorporate it in this column, as I feel once it is printed it is preserved for as long as there are newspaper files and records.

Opening lead—♥9

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Two bridge players recently asked me to settle a bidding dispute. They gave me the hand shown today, which they had bid in the manner shown in the diagram.

"Shouldn't North bid one no-trump instead of two spades?" asked one of my friends. "He has a weak opening bid, and the overcall in hearts warns him that the king of hearts is worthless. Shouldn't he do everything he can to advertise that he has a bare minimum?"

Before I could answer the other fellow rushed right in. "Shouldn't South stop at three spades?" he asked. "He has heard his partner make minimum re-bids of two spades and three spades. Why does he have to go on to four spades?"

As usual in these matters I asked a question of my own instead of answering. "How did the play go?" I wanted to know.

West opened the nine of hearts, they told me, and East won with the jack. He returned the jack of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer drew three rounds of trumps and led a diamond, knocking out the ace. West led another heart, and the suit was continued, forcing South to ruff with his last trump.

Now South couldn't lead a low diamond to dummy's ten, for then he would never get back to his hand to cash the king and queen. He played a squeeze by leading a club to dummy's king and leading out dummy's last trump. But there was no squeeze, and also no tenth trick.

Now you have all the information that was given to me. If these two players had come to you for a decision, how would you have answered them? Decide for yourself before you read on.

Both of the bidding questions are very close points. I would not criticize a North who bid one no-trump instead of two spades. I would bid two spades myself because I do not suppress four-card trump support for a major suit if there is any way to avoid it.

I would not criticize a South who passed at three spades. I would bid four spades myself because there's usually a way to make ten tricks on these very close hands, and it pays to be aggressive in such situations.

On this very hand South should draw only two rounds of trumps and then should lead diamonds. The opponents then make him ruff a heart, but he can lead a diamond to dummy and still return to his hand with a trump. The rest is easy.

Popowicz, Former DP, Fascinates Audience at Show

Woodstock, April 21—Until last November, when he arrived in this country with his family and but a fraction of the tools of his jeweler's craft, Serge Popowicz, had been in German concentration and displaced persons camps for five years. The demonstration which Popowicz gave in the art of silver jewelry creation Thursday night at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, was ample proof that an enemy can strip a man of his material possessions, but it can never take away his skill and knowledge.

Popowicz learned the craft in his native Poland, and even today practically his only possessions are a few unique European tools, of the kind used for centuries by metal craftsmen. His audience Thursday night was particularly fascinated by the small hand drill—an upright metal shaft into which fitted the various sized drills, with a moveable wooden crossbar fastened to the shaft by leather strips. After drawing the design on the thin sheet of silver, Popowicz, using a deft motion of his fingers worked the crossbar in swift strokes as the drill spun. It looked, in Popowicz' hands, like an extremely simple operation. Several members of his audience tried it. Only one succeeded in spinning it for a few moments.

"It's the oldest form of hand drill known to man," Konrad Cramer, of the Guild, explained.

Dick Chambers, who assisted with the demonstration, went on to explain the next operation, the cutting out of the small flower and scrolls, with a thread-fine jeweler's saw.

"With the saw he did the cutting with a down stroke, which indicates that contrary to most saws, the teeth point toward the handle," Chambers said.

After the three pieces, for what began to emerge as a delicate necklace, were cut out, they were carefully filed, and the center flower hammered into the semi-rounds of the petals.

Used Steel Plate

Using a steel plate in which had been drilled a series of graduated tiny holes, Popowicz drew a length of silver wire first through the larger holes and finally down to the smallest, stretching the wire into a fine glistening thread which he wound around another piece of wire. With the tiny saw he sliced them off, and there almost miraculously were the minute links which were soldered between the three larger shapes.

Popowicz performed the soldering operation with the aid of a small alcohol lamp with a tube attachment through which he blew to direct the flame directly on the metal mounted on a piece of charcoal.

"That, too, looks easy," Cramer remarked, "but it actually is again difficult. He can't run out of breath until the metal is welded."

The small fragile necklace took shape in an amazingly short time, and at the conclusion it was shown how the final finishing and polishing could be handled for various effects.

Mrs. Albert Wangler, of the Guild announced that it was hoped that a class in metalwork could be formed if a sufficient number of students requested it.

"We are extremely fortunate in having such a fine craftsman as Popowicz, whose technique, we feel is superb."

Mrs. Wangler also mentioned that Popowicz, his wife and three young children, who have been living in Fishkill, through the kindness of the Veteran Beef Company, will be without a house after May 1. She requested that if anyone in this vicinity knew of a home which would be suitable for the family, that he call Mrs. Wangler at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, Woodstock 2815. Popowicz also is an expert at repairing clocks and watches.

The next demonstration, under the auspices of the educational department, will be presented at the Guild by Besse Stowall, in the art of weaving, Thursday, May 1, at 7:30 p. m.

Suicide Is Ruled

George Goetzen, Sr., 76, of Earlton, Greene county, who had been in ill health for some time, took his life Saturday in the backyard of his home. State police report he sat down in a chair, inserted the muzzle of a .22 calibre rifle in his mouth and pressed the trigger with his big toe. The bullet entered the roof of his mouth and emerged from the top of his head. He died instantly. Coroner Alton Daley issued a suicide verdict.

New Lock Difficult

Florence, Italy (AP)—A burglar would need up to two years to open his new type lock, says Dr. Mario Materozzi. That's if he has the key. Because this lock requires both a key and a combination. There is almost no mathematical limit to the number of combinations possible, depending upon the number of notches on the key and tumblers in the lock. Just a small-size lock and key will give from 4,000 to one million possible combinations.

UNVEIL "PATTON'S" SUCCESSOR—Here is the M-47, successor to the famed M-46 "Patton" tank and the first medium tank to be turned out for Army Ordnance since World War II. It's in quantity production at the American Locomotive plant at Schenectady, N. Y. The new tank has many improvements over the old Patton. These include a more lethal and effective gun, with increased probability of a first-round hit, a higher rate of fire, automatic re-aiming after each shot, greatly enlarged field of vision and improved armor. In addition to features listed on photo, the M-47 carries two .50 calibre and one .30 calibre machine guns and has a two-way radio.

Bookkeeping Service

Frederick P. Decker, public accoutant, has established a machine bookkeeping service for small businesses and professional men of the city. He operates under the name of Decker's Machine Bookkeeping Service, with office at 77 Furnace street. Decker has operated an accounting service in Ulster county the past 15 years, and has been a public accountant and tax consultant for 30 years. His home is at 16 Brown avenue.

Two Air Forces Formed

They embrace squadrons from the United States, Canada, Britain, France, The Netherlands and Belgium. The two new air forces will be under the command of Lt. Gen. Lauris Norstad, commander-in-chief of allied air forces in central Europe.

Two Persons Killed

Whitney, Ala., April 21 (AP)—Two cars collided and a bus smashed into one of them Saturday, killing two persons and injuring eight others. One car contained a group of Georgians and the other Kentucky residents. Only one occupant of the bus, Mrs. Elizabeth Rose, 75, Mt. Vernon, N. Y., was hurt. Her condition was not serious.

UN Trains Farm Experts

Rome (AP)—The United Nations is becoming the farmers' friend by training agricultural experts. Through the UN Food and Agricultural Organization, with headquarters here, 375 fellowships have been authorized for agricultural studies in advanced countries which have farming knowhow.

License Blanks AreBeingWithheld

Following notification about a month ago that chauffeur license renewal blanks must be held up pending release by the Motor Vehicle commissioner in Albany, County Clerk Harry D. Sutton has received notice from the state commissioner that renewal blanks may not be given out and there will be no issuance of renewals until May 1.

Blanks are now available at the Motor Vehicle Bureau office on Main street. Chauffeur renewals in many cases must be made by May 31.

County Clerk Sutton stated that while the blanks have been released and may be obtained by applicants, his office cannot issue renewals until May first after new protective measures have been provided to prevent counterfeiting of chauffeur licenses.

It is assumed that new stamps will be provided which will prevent alteration of licenses.

Ford's the Class "A" Winner for 3rd Consecutive Year!

New Ford Mileage Maker SIX Thriftiest in its Field!

Again this year . . . as in the past two years . . . Ford was first in gas economy over all other cars in its price class in the Mobilgas Economy Run. In this toughest test, a stock model Ford Six equipped with Overdrive (optional at extra cost) averaged 53.855 ton-miles per gallon and 25.463 actual miles per gallon.

For now, with its new design providing 101-horsepower and free-turning overhead valves, Ford is definitely pound-for-pound the most economical low-priced car to run! Yes . . . Ford's thrift was clearly proved by the 1,415-mile grind from Los Angeles to Sun Valley. And a very important factor contributing to this victory is Ford's Automatic Power Pilot which squeezes the last ounce of power out of every drop of gas.

Opening lead—♥ 9

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Two bridge players recently asked me to settle a bidding dispute. They gave me the hand shown today, which they had bid in the manner shown in the diagram.

"Shouldn't North bid one no-trump instead of two spades?" asked one of my friends. "He has a weak opening bid, and the over-call in hearts warns him that the king of hearts is worthless. Shouldn't he do everything he can to advertise that he has a bare minimum?"

Before I could answer the other fellow rushed right in. "Shouldn't South stop at three spades?" he asked. "He has heard his partner make minimum re-bids of two spades and three spades. Why does he have to go on to four spades?"

As usual in these matters I asked a question of my own instead of answering. "How did the play go?" I wanted to know.

West opened the nine of hearts, they told me, and East won with the jack. He returned the jack of clubs, and dummy won with the ace. Declarer drew three rounds of trumps and led a diamond, knocking out the ace. West led another heart, and the suit was continued, forcing South to ruff with his last trump.

Now South couldn't lead a low diamond to dummy's ten, for then he would never get back to his hand to cash the king and queen. He played a squeeze by leading a club to dummy's king and leading out dummy's last trump. But there was no squeeze, and also no tenth trick.

Now you have all the information that was given to me. If these two players had come to you for a decision, how would you have answered them? Decide for yourself before you read on.

Both of the bidding questions are very close points. I would not criticize a North who bid one no-trump instead of two spades. I would bid two spades myself because I do not suppress four-card trump support for a major suit if there is any way to avoid it.

I would not criticize a South who passed at three spades. I would bid four spades myself because there's usually a way to make ten tricks on these very close hands, and it pays to be aggressive in such situations.

On this very hand South should draw only two rounds of trumps and then should lead diamonds. The opponents then make him ruff a heart, but he can lead a diamond to dummy and still return to his hand with a trump. The rest is easy.

Clocks Set Ahead

London, April 21 (AP)—Britons have set their clocks ahead one hour for the summer. The change, which went into effect yesterday, puts the time in England six hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time in the United States, instead of five. English time is now the same as in France, Italy and Germany. They made no summer change.

Illegal Use

It is very commonly believed that a person may freely make any patented article, provided it is only for his own use. This, however, is not correct, and unauthorized construction or use of a patented article may constitute infringement, even if it is not sold.

Popowicz, Former DP, Fascinates Audience at Show

Woodstock, April 21—Until last November, when he arrived in this country with his family and but a fraction of the tools of his jeweler's craft, Serge Popowicz, had been in German concentration and displaced persons camps for five years. The demonstration which Popowicz gave in the art of silver jewelry creation Thursday night at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, was ample proof that an enemy can strip a man of his material possessions, but it can never take away his skill and knowledge.

Popowicz learned the craft in his native Poland, and even today practically his only possessions are a few unique European tools, of the kind used for centuries by metal craftsmen. His audience Thursday night was particularly fascinated by the small hand drill—an upright metal shaft into which fitted the various sized drills, with a moveable wooden crossbar fastened to the shaft by leather strips. After drawing the design on the thin sheet of silver, Popowicz, using a deft motion of his fingers worked the crossbar in swift strokes as the drill spun. It looked, in Popowicz' hands, like an extremely simple operation. Several members of his audience tried it. Only one succeeded in spinning it for a few moments.

"It's the oldest form of hand drill known to man," Konrad Cramer, of the Guild, explained.

Dick Chambers, who assisted with the demonstration, went on to explain the next operation, the cutting out of the small flower and scrolls, with a thread-fine jeweler's saw.

"With the saw he did the cutting with a down stroke, which indicates that contrary to most saws, the teeth point toward the handle," Chambers said.

After the three pieces, for what began to emerge as a delicate necklace, were cut out, they were carefully filed, and the center flower hammered into the semi-rounds of the petals.

Used Steel Plate

Using a steel plate in which had been drilled a series of graduated tiny holes, Popowicz drew a length of silver wire first through the larger holes and finally down to the smallest, stretching the wire into a fine glistening thread which he wound around another piece of wire. With the tiny saw he sliced them off, and there almost miraculously were the minute links which were soldered between the three larger shapes.

Popowicz performed the soldering operation with the aid of a small alcohol lamp with a tube attachment through which he blew to direct the flame directly on the metal mounted on a piece of charcoal.

"That, too, looks easy," Cramer remarked, "but it actually is again difficult. He can't run out of breath until the metal is welded."

The small fragile necklace took shape in an amazingly short time, and at the conclusion it was shown how the final finishing and polishing could be handled for various effects.

Mrs. Albert Wangler, of the Guild announced that it was hoped that a class in metalwork could be formed if a sufficient number of students requested it.

"We are extremely fortunate in having such a fine craftsman as Popowicz, whose technique, we feel is superb."

Mrs. Wangler also mentioned that Popowicz, his wife and three young children, who have been living in Fishkill, through the kindness of the Veteran Beef Company, will be without a house after May 1. She requested that if anyone in this vicinity knew of a home which would be suitable for the family, that he call Mrs. Wangler at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, Woodstock 2815. Popowicz also is an expert at repairing clocks and watches.

The next demonstration, under the auspices of the educational department, will be presented at the Guild by Besse Stowall, in the art of weaving, Thursday, May 1, at 7:30 p. m.

Recipe

A recipe for summer joy:
One dog
One ball
One field
One boy

Mix well with sunshine. Stir around till fun in dog and boy is found in fullest measure in them both and joy attains its fullest growth; then add some quiet woods to quest in for soft and shady spots to rest in, with a cool spring to stop at first where both of them can quench their thirst.

Dog, ball, field, boy, a spring, some shade: of these pure summer joy is made.

—By Alfred I. Tooke

Solitude is a desert that each of us peoples to his liking.

Jack—I only saw one act and I left.

Ruthe—Why didn't you see act two?

Jack—The program said, act two same as act one.

You'll find that the highest tax you pay is on your own darn foolishness.

Laziness grows on people; it begins in cobwebs and ends in iron chains. The more business a man has to do the more he is able to accomplish, for he learns to economize his time.—Sir M. Hale.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands, but like the seafaring man on the desert of waters, you choose them as guides, and, following them, you reach your destiny.

Patient—Doctor, if there's anything wrong with me, don't frighten me half to death by giving it a long scientific name. Just tell me in plain English what it is.

Doctor—Well, to be perfectly frank, you are just plain lazy.

Patient — Thank you, Doctor. And now, will you give me the scientific name for that condition so that I can tell the folks at home?

Ye Olde Inflation

By FRANK TRIPP

This is the story of Happy Haven, in ye olde days. It was as contented a parish as ever there was. Its economy was self contained. It grew and produced everything it needed. It had no money, no medium of exchange. Credit was unknown.

Everybody was solvent—went to bed every night all even with the world. Those who farmed swapped wheat, corn, and wool for clothes and shoes. The carpenter who built the buildings was paid in food, fuel and supplies. Everybody paid for what he had with his produce, his services or with something that he made.

One day the miller needed a new grain bin and sent for Tom, the carpenter. "It will cost you more than the last one," said the carpenter. "I will charge 15 bushels of wheat for building this one."

"But I only paid you 10 bushels for the last one," said the miller.

The miller had to have the bin so he stood the raise.

A FARMER drove in with 20 bushels of wheat. "Sorry, Joe, but I've got to charge you five bushels for milling this time," the miller told the farmer. "You see, Tom-the-Carpenter went up on his charge for a new grain bin and I've got to have more wheat to pay him."

The weaver went to the farmer to get some wool. "Got to charge you two bolts of homespun this time," said the farmer. "The cost of milling has gone up."

The shoemaker went to the weaver to get some cloth. "Got to charge you two pairs of boots for the homespun this time," said the weaver. "The cost of things is going up."

TOM, THE CARPENTER, was going fine—he thought—so he decided to tog out in some new duds. He went to the weaver for some cloth.

"What you got to pay with?" asked the weaver.

"I've got some wheat," said the carpenter.

"Okay, it'll cost you three more bushels than last time," said the weaver. "Everything is going up."

Tom then went to the shoemaker for a pair of boots. "They'll cost you more this time," said the cobbler. "I'll have to get three more bushels than before. Things are going up."

Tom and his wife went into a huddle. "We're worse off than ever," said Tom. "I raised five bushels for building the grain bin but the weaver charged me three more bushels for the homespun and the bootmaker charged three more for my boots—the robbers. That's six bushels; one more bushel than what I got extra for the grain bin."

"You'll have to build more grain bins," observed Tom's wife.

"How can I?" asked Tom. "The miller says he can't afford to build any more grain bins. He's figured out a substitute."

"Looks like you're stuck, Tom. All you've done is increase the cost of our living."

THEN CAME the showdown. The parson and the school teacher called a meeting of the hamlet's peers. The parson reported:

"I am very sorry, gentlemen, but the cost of things has gone up so in Happy Haven that I'll have to get more provender next year. I know of no other way to meet the situation."

"How about savin' more souls?" piped the hoss-shoer—who was promptly ejected from the meeting.

"And I'm at my wits' end," said the school teacher. "Whatever can I do?"

"You'll have to do like the rest of us," injected the former. "Produce more—teach more learnin'."

"I'll teach more learnin'," proclaimed the teacher. "I'll teach you numbskulls that you all are just running around in circles. And you're going to ruin Happy Haven, that's what you're going to do.

"If you don't wake up, this town will go bankrupt. You'll pay me more or your brats will grow up to be bigger ignoramuses than you are—if that's possible. I'm through. I strike!"

PRETTY SOON all of Happy Haven got the gimmes. Everybody tried to get out ahead of the pack. A new word crept into the community's vocabulary — "inflation."

Nobody could produce enough to pay the others what they charged for things. So they went on the installment basis and printed some money. A guy opened a bank, loaned everybody on mortgages—and now he owns half the town.

That is the story of Happy Haven.

Display of Flags On Patriotic Days Asked by Legion

Flags will fly along the streets of Kingston in observance of Armed Forces Ray May 17 and on all other days as set forth in the Flag Code enacted by Congress according to a plan launched by Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, according to an announcement by Commander Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd.

The Post is anxious to have the City of Kingston stand out on every patriotic occasion by the appropriate display of flags.

In a letter to the Post, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk endorses the project and in a communication states "I, the Mayor of the City of Kingston, endorse the American Legion's plan and ask the people of the City of Kingston to take under consideration what the American flag means to all of the people and to display the American flag more often in our city."

Lawrence J. MacAvery, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, declared in a communication "We are pleased to endorse the campaign to make it possible to decorate our streets and have the necessary equipment available to display flags or any other type of flags which may be appropriate."

The American Legion plan calls for a system of reminders mailed throughout this year to business establishments in order to obtain a wider respect for the American flag and its proper display.

The campaign to replace the old wooden poles with new equipment was started this year. Installation of sockets along sidewalks of the business district has been started and new steel poles with brass eagles is a new type of equipment to be generally displayed on proper occasions.

Prayer for Peace Of YWCA Group

The following is the YWCA prayer for peace written for use primarily during the event on YWCA and the World Day (world membership celebration) Thursday, April 24:

YWCA Prayer for Peace

O God of Light,
O God of Love,
O God of Power,
O God of Peace,
Hear our voices united
In prayer to Thee.

We pray for light. (Silence)
Let Thy light shine upon a dark world.
Show us the real world though we turn away.
Show us the vision of a world made one.
Show us a world set free.
Help us to live in Thy light.

We pray for love. (Silence)
Let Thy love warm our hearts, until we, too, can love.
Show us how to love ourselves, since we are loved by Thee.
Show us how to love our neighbors as ourselves.
Show us a world where love has cast out doubt and hate and fear.
Help us to live in Thy love.

We pray for power. (Silence)
Let Thy power be ours, O God. Our need is great.
Show us that power is to help people, not dominate.
Show us a world where power is controlled by love.
Show us a world where men draw daily strength from Thee.
Help us to live by Thy power.

We pray for peace. (Silence)
Let Thy peace be in our hearts and minds.
Show us a world where there is peace between men.
Show us a world where there begins to be peace between nations.
Show us that Thy peace, O God, can be the firm ground under our feet.
Help us to live in Thy peace.

Now let Thy light and love and power and peace begin in us, and through us reach out to other lives around the world. We dedicate ourselves to the tasks of peace. So may Thy peace, O God, finally heal the hearts of men.—Amen.

Jacoby on Canasta

ADD A MEMBER AND PLAY SAFE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"There are eight women in our little group of Canasta players," writes a San Francisco correspondent. "We meet once a week and we always have a prize for the player with the high score for the afternoon. This is perfect when all eight players show up, but most of the time somebody cannot make it and we have only seven players instead of eight.

"What should we do about it when we have only seven players? Can we arrange it so that everybody has a fair chance for the prize?"

The easiest solution is to recruit a ninth player. Then if somebody is absent you will still have the perfect number of eight. If all nine players show up, it's a cinch to arrange one table of five and another table of four.

At the table of five players, a team of three opposes a team of two. One member of the threesome sits out for a hand, and they take turns so that nobody has to sit out twice in a row.

The members of the threesome all get credit for whatever is won, and all are debited for whatever is lost. For example, suppose they win 1200 points from their opponents. The three winners each take 1200 points, and the two losers each lose 1200 points.

This would drive a bookkeeper crazy, since there are 3600 points won and only 2400 points lost, but Canasta players don't have to worry about bookkeepers.

This five-handed game is so simple that many clubs have ten members. If all show up, the players are arranged at two tables of five. If only one or even two members are absent, there is still a normal game.

Seven players are much harder to arrange in a good prize contest. You have to have one table of four players and another table of only three. The scores are often lower in a three-hand game than in a four-hand game.

In the course of an afternoon, it should be easy to arrange matters so that everybody has a chance at playing at the table with four players.

Q—I have put down cards as a meld. Am I allowed to rearrange them before I discard?

A—No. Once those cards have been put down in a legal meld, they must stay put. You are not allowed to rearrange them even though you have not yet discarded.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

FUEL REVOLUTION—"Now you're cooking with gas" is an expression with serious meaning to the fuel industry For, as the accompanying chart shows, natural gas and oil have made startling inroads into the percentage of fuel energy supplied by coal three decades ago. While the proportion of energy produced by gas has expanded 400 per cent, and that of oil has increased 160 per cent, the proportion of coal energy production has been cut in half. Estimated production for 1951 shows coal's controlling hold on the industry slipping even further. It seems likely that this "fuel

Ye Olde Inflation

By FRANK TRIPP

This is the story of Happy Haven, in ye olde days. It was as contented a parish as ever there was. Its economy was self contained. It grew and produced everything it needed. It had no money, no medium of exchange. Credit was unknown.

Everybody was solvent—went to bed every night all even with the world. Those who farmed swapped wheat, corn, and wool for clothes and shoes. The carpenter who built the buildings was paid in food, fuel and supplies. Everybody paid for what he had with his produce, his services or with something that he made.

One day the miller needed a new grain bin and sent for Tom, the carpenter. "It will cost you more than the last one," said the carpenter. "I will charge 15 bushels of wheat for building this one."

"But I only paid you 10 bushels for the last one," said the miller.

The miller had to have the bin so he stood the raise.

A FARMER drove in with 20 bushels of wheat. "Sorry, Joe, but I've got to charge you five bushels for milling this time," the miller told the farmer. "You see, Tom-the-Carpenter went up on his charge for a new grain bin and I've got to have more wheat to pay him."

The weaver went to the farmer to get some wool. "Got to charge you two bolts of homespun this time," said the farmer. "The cost of milling has gone up."

The shoemaker went to the weaver to get some cloth. "Got to charge you two pairs of boots for the homespun this time," said the weaver. "The cost of things is going up."

TOM, THE CARPENTER, was going fine—he thought—so he decided to tog out in some new duds. He went to the weaver for some cloth.

"What you got to pay with?" asked the weaver.

"I've got some wheat," said the carpenter.

"Okay, it'll cost you three more bushels than last time," said the weaver. "Everything is going up."

Tom then went to the shoemaker for a pair of boots. "They'll cost you more this time," said the cobbler. "I'll have to get three more bushels than before. Things are going up."

Tom and his wife went into a huddle. "We're worse off than ever," said Tom. "I raised five bushels for building the grain bin but the weaver charged me three more bushels for the homespun and the bootmaker charged three more for my boots—the robbers. That's six bushels; one more bushel than what I got extra for the grain bin."

"You'll have to build more grain bins," observed Tom's wife.

"How can I?" asked Tom. "The miller says he can't afford to build any more grain bins. He's figured out a substitute."

THEN CAME the showdown. The parson and the school teacher called a meeting of the hamlet's peers. The parson reported:

"I am very sorry, gentlemen, but the cost of things has gone up so in Happy Haven that I'll have to get more provender next year. I know of no other way to meet the situation."

"How about savin' more souls?" piped the hoss-shoer—who was promptly ejected from the meeting.

"And I'm at my wits' end," said the school teacher. "Whatever can I do?"

"You'll have to do like the rest of us," injected the former. "Produce more—teach more learnin'."

"I'll teach more learnin'," proclaimed the teacher. "I'll teach you numbskulls that you all are just running around in circles. And you're going to ruin Happy Haven, that's what you're going to do.

"If you don't wake up, this town will go bankrupt. You'll pay me more or your brats will grow up to be bigger ignoramuses than you are—if that's possible. I'm through. I strike!"

PRETTY SOON all of Happy Haven got the gimmes. Everybody tried to get out ahead of the pack. A new word crept into the community's vocabulary — "inflation."

Nobody could produce enough to pay the others what they charged for things. So they went on the installment basis and printed some money. A guy opened a bank, loaned everybody on mortgages—and now he owns half the town.

That is the story of Happy Haven.

Display of Flags On Patriotic Days Asked by Legion

Flags will fly along the streets of Kingston in observance of Armed Forces Ray May 17 and on all other days as set forth in the Flag Code enacted by Congress according to a plan launched by Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, according to an announcement by Commander Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd.

The Post is anxious to have the City of Kingston stand out on every patriotic occasion by the appropriate display of flags.

In a letter to the Post, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk endorses the project and in a communication states "I, the Mayor of the City of Kingston, endorse the American Legion's plan and ask the people of the City of Kingston to take under consideration what the American flag means to all of the people and to display the American flag more often in our city."

Lawrence J. MacAvery, president of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, declared in a communication "We are pleased to endorse the campaign to make it possible to decorate our streets and have the necessary equipment available to display flags or any other type of flags which may be appropriate."

The American Legion plan calls for a system of reminders mailed throughout this year to business establishments in order to obtain a wider respect for the American flag and its proper display.

The campaign to replace the old wooden poles with new equipment was started this year. Installation of sockets along sidewalks of the business district has been started and new steel poles with brass eagles is a new type of equipment to be generally displayed on proper occasions.

Prayer for Peace Of YWCA Group

The following is the YWCA prayer for peace written for use primarily during the event on YWCA and the World Day (world membership celebration) Thursday, April 24:

YWCA Prayer for Peace

O God of Light,
O God of Love,
O God of Power,
O God of Peace,
Hear our voices united
In prayer to Thee.

We pray for light. (Silence)
Let Thy light shine upon a dark world.
Show us the real world though we turn away.
Show us the vision of a world made one.
Show us a world set free.
Help us to live in Thy light.

We pray for love. (Silence)
Let Thy love warm our hearts, until we, too, can love.
Show us how to love ourselves, since we are loved by Thee.
Show us how to love our neighbors as ourselves.
Show us a world where love has cast out doubt and hate and fear.
Help us to live in Thy love.

We pray for power. (Silence)
Let Thy power be ours, O God. Our need is great.
Show us that power is to help people, not dominate.
Show us a world where power is controlled by love.
Show us a world where men draw daily strength from Thee.
Help us to live by Thy power.

We pray for peace. (Silence)
Let Thy peace be in our hearts and minds.
Show us a world where there is peace between men.
Show us a world where there begins to be peace between nations.
Show us that Thy peace, O God, can be the firm ground under our feet.
Help us to live in Thy peace.

Now let Thy light and love and power and peace begin in us, and through us reach out to other lives around the world. We dedicate ourselves to the tasks of peace. So may Thy peace, O God, finally heal the hearts of men.—Amen.

Jacoby on Canasta

ADD A MEMBER AND PLAY SAFE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"There are eight women in our little group of Canasta players," writes a San Francisco correspondent. "We meet once a week and we always have a prize for the player with the high score for the afternoon. This is perfect when all eight players show up, but most of the time somebody cannot make it and we have only seven players instead of eight.

"What should we do about it when we have only seven players? Can we arrange it so that everybody has a fair chance for the prize?"

The easiest solution is to recruit a ninth player. Then if somebody is absent you will still have the perfect number of eight. If all nine players show up, it's a cinch to arrange one table of five and another table of four.

At the table of five players, a team of three opposes a team of two. One member of the threesome sits out for a hand, and they take turns so that nobody has to sit out twice in a row.

The members of the threesome all get credit for whatever is won, and all are debited for whatever is lost. For example, suppose they win 1200 points from their opponents. The three winners each take 1200 points, and the two losers each lose 1200 points.

This would drive a bookkeeper crazy, since there are 3600 points won and only 2400 points lost, but Canasta players don't have to worry about bookkeepers.

This five-handed game is so simple that many clubs have ten members. If all show up, the players are arranged at two tables of five. If only one or even two members are absent, there is still a normal game.

Seven players are much harder to arrange in a good prize contest. You have to have one table of four players and another table of only three. The scores are often lower in a three-hand game than in a four-hand game.

In the course of an afternoon, it should be easy to arrange matters so that everybody has a chance at playing at the table with four players.

Q—I have put down cards as a meld. Am I allowed to rearrange them before I discard?

A—No. Once those cards have been put down in a legal meld, they must stay put. You are not allowed to rearrange them even though you have not yet discarded.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column.

FUEL REVOLUTION—"Now you're cooking with gas" is an expression with serious meaning to the fuel industry For, as the accompanying chart shows, natural gas and oil have made startling inroads into the percentage of fuel energy supplied by coal three decades ago. While the proportion of energy produced by gas has expanded 400 per cent, and that of oil has increased 160 per cent, the proportion of coal energy production has been cut in half. Estimated production for 1951 shows coal's controlling hold on the industry slipping even further. It seems likely that this "fuel

Rita Gertrude Dittus Becomes Bride of William F. Mackesey

The marriage of Miss Rita Gertrude Dittus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dittus, Sr., 112 East Chester street, to William Francis Mackesey, son of Mrs. William J. Mackesey and the late Mr. Mackesey of Loudonville, took place at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, April 14, when a nuptial mass was celebrated at St. Peter's R. C. Church. The Rev. William J. Miloseck, assistant pastor, St. Pius Church, Loudonville, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 40 guests followed at Judie's restaurant.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Miss Nan Goldrick, organist. Edward Cherny was the soloist. His selections included the Ave Maria, Panis Angelicus, O' Sanctissima, Adore Te, and O, Lord I Am Not Worthy. Easter and cala lilies were used for decorating the altar.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace fashioned over ice-blue satin, and styled with a fitted basque jacket and plaited nylon tulle skirt. Her chapel length illusion veil was attached to a shell-type headpiece of satin and lace trimmed with rhinestones. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and streamers.

Miss Jean M. Hendricks of 80 Chambers street, a classmate of the bride, was the maid of honor. Her ballerina length gown of pink nylon net and Margot lace was fashioned with a molded bodice and plainted nylon net skirt. A small cape and a scroll headpiece made with pink lilies-of-the-valley completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of violets with a pink rose center and violet streamers.

Francis N. Ham, Jr., of North Reading, Mass., was the best man. John H. Dittus, Jr., brother of the bride, 42 Clifton avenue, and Gregory Angier of Loudonville served as ushers.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York city, the couple will reside in Loudonville.

Mrs. Mackesey graduated from Kingston High School and St. Peter's Hospital School of Nursing, Albany, class of '51; and prior to her marriage, was a member of the nursing staff at the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. Mackesey graduated from Vincentian Institute in Albany and attended Siena College in Loudonville. He is employed by the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company in Albany.

PARTY FOR SON'S FIANCEE

The mother of a newly engaged son writes: "I am planning a large afternoon tea to introduce my son's fiancee to our friends. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded, and also whether she receives with me?"

To your intimate friends and relatives you would write, "To meet John's Mary" across the top of your visiting card, and the date and hour beneath. To acquaintances you would write, "To meet Miss Mary Smith," etc. with the date and hour.

At the tea your son's fiancee stands beside you and receives and it is correct that your son stand on the other side of her.

Two Announcements in One

Dear Mrs. Post: At the same time that we send our announcements of the arrival of our first child, we would also like to make known that we are shortening our family name. Would it be possible to announce both at the same time, and how should the announcement be worded?

Answer: Although unusual you might combine both announcements in this way:

Mr. and Mrs. John Old Name
announce that by permission of the Court they have taken the family name of Brown
and also announce the birth of
on.....

Dear Mrs. Post: I own a beauty parlor. A customer has sent me an invitation to her wedding anniversary reception at the country club. Of course, I'll not go but what obligation is there for me to pay any attention to the occasion? I can't imagine why she thought I'd be interested in her private life.

Answer: The answer is obvious that she must like you personally very much and from that point of view you should be flattered. But there is no obligation on your part either to go or to send a present.

How should the home be decorated for a home wedding? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-8 includes the details for a home wedding and describes appropriate decoration. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Chairman for the YWCA Hobby show will be Mrs. Vincent Guido. The show will take place in the municipal auditorium on May 20, 21 and 22. An auction followed the business meeting. Mrs. Charles Jones and Mrs. Harold Reis served as auctioneers.

One-Piece Look Smart for Summer

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York—(NEA)—Summer's cottons, wherever they are not checked, are most likely striped. But check or stripe, they're much more covered-up than they were last year. Often, the shoulders are concealed by wide straps or brief sleeves, as opposed to the bare-shoulder look of 1951.

In direct contrast to the costume-look of last summer achieved through dusters and assembled pieces, this year's look is one-piece. Everything is organized and emphasis is placed on jackets that appear to be a part of the dress.

In fabrics, checks and stripes take naturally to black-and-white. And this, in turn, harmonizes with little touches of black velvet, rhinestone buttons, shining black belts.

Little puffed sleeves appear in lots of dresses and jackets. If there's a halter, a wide V or a square neckline, there's a jacket that can be used to cover it. And the jacket is likely to be a Spencer that seems to be in one piece with the dress.

Summer's daytime cotton dresses are very light and feminine. This means that the airy sheers register strongly, and that they are sometimes self-decorated — slubbed, satin-striped or shadow-checked.

Former Benedictine Nurse Wed in St. Peter's

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM F. MACKESEY

Following their marriage on Monday, April 14, at 10:30 a. m. in St. Peter's Church, when the Rev. William J. Miloseck officiated at the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Mackesey cut their wedding cake during a reception at Judie's restaurant. The bride is the former Miss Rita Gertrude Dittus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dittus, Sr., 112 E. Chester street. Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Mackesey was a member of the nursing staff at the Benedictine Hospital. (Brentwood photo)

Rita Gertrude Dittus Becomes Bride of William F. Mackesey

The marriage of Miss Rita Gertrude Dittus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dittus, Sr., 112 East Chester street, to William Francis Mackesey, son of Mrs. William J. Mackesey and the late Mr. Mackesey of Loudonville, took place at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning, April 14, when a nuptial mass was celebrated at St. Peter's R. C. Church. The Rev. William J. Miloseck, assistant pastor, St. Pius Church, Loudonville, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 40 guests followed at Judie's restaurant.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Miss Nan Goldrick, organist. Edward Cherny was the soloist. His selections included the Ave Maria, Panis Angelicus, O' Sanctissima, Adore Te, and O, Lord I Am Not Worthy. Easter and cala lilies were used for decorating the altar.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace fashioned over ice-blue satin, and styled with a fitted basque jacket and plaited nylon tulle skirt. Her chapel length illusion veil was attached to a shell-type headpiece of satin and lace trimmed with rhinestones. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and streamers.

Miss Jean M. Hendricks of 80 Chambers street, a classmate of the bride, was the maid of honor. Her ballerina length gown of pink nylon net and Margot lace was fashioned with a molded bodice and plainted nylon net skirt. A small cape and a scroll headpiece made with pink lilies-of-the-valley completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of violets with a pink rose center and violet streamers.

Francis N. Ham, Jr., of North Reading, Mass., was the best man. John H. Dittus, Jr., brother of the bride, 42 Clifton avenue, and Gregory Angier of Loudonville served as ushers.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to New York city, the couple will reside in Loudonville.

Mrs. Mackesey graduated from Kingston High School and St. Peter's Hospital School of Nursing, Albany, class of '51; and prior to her marriage, was a member of the nursing staff at the Benedictine Hospital.

Mr. Mackesey graduated from Vincentian Institute in Albany and attended Siena College in Loudonville. He is employed by the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company in Albany.

PARTY FOR SON'S FIANCEE

The mother of a newly engaged son writes: "I am planning a large afternoon tea to introduce my son's fiancee to our friends. Will you please tell me how the invitations should be worded, and also whether she receives with me?"

To your intimate friends and relatives you would write, "To meet John's Mary" across the top of your visiting card, and the date and hour beneath. To acquaintances you would write, "To meet Miss Mary Smith," etc. with the date and hour.

At the tea your son's fiancee stands beside you and receives and it is correct that your son stand on the other side of her.

Two Announcements in One

Dear Mrs. Post: At the same time that we send our announcements of the arrival of our first child, we would also like to make known that we are shortening our family name. Would it be possible to announce both at the same time, and how should the announcement be worded?

Answer: Although unusual you might combine both announcements in this way:

Mr. and Mrs. John Old Name
announce that by permission of the Court
they have taken the family name of Brown
and also announce the birth of
on.....

Dear Mrs. Post: I own a beauty parlor. A customer has sent me an invitation to her wedding anniversary reception at the country club. Of course, I'll not go but what obligation is there for me to pay any attention to the occasion? I can't imagine why she thought I'd be interested in her private life.

Answer: The answer is obvious that she must like you personally very much and from that point of view you should be flattered. But there is no obligation on your part either to go or to send a present.

How should the home be decorated for a home wedding? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, her leaflet E-8 includes the details for a home wedding and describes appropriate decoration. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. ## One-Piece Look Smart for Summer

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Woman's Editor

New York—(NEA)—Summer's cottons, wherever they are not checked, are most likely striped. But check or stripe, they're much more covered-up than they were last year. Often, the shoulders are concealed by wide straps or brief sleeves, as opposed to the bare-shoulder look of 1951.

In direct contrast to the costume-look of last summer achieved through dusters and assembled pieces, this year's look is one-piece. Everything is organized and emphasis is placed on jackets that appear to be a part of the dress.

In fabrics, checks and stripes take naturally to black-and-white. And this, in turn, harmonizes with little touches of black velvet, rhinestone buttons, shining black belts.

Little puffed sleeves appear in lots of dresses and jackets. If there's a halter, a wide V or a square neckline, there's a jacket that can be used to cover it. And the jacket is likely to be a Spencer that seems to be in one piece with the dress.

Summer's daytime cotton dresses are very light and feminine. This means that the airy sheers register strongly, and that they are sometimes self-decorated — slubbed, satin-striped or shadow-checked.

At the conclusion of a concert presented by the choir, Miss Walker, who in her official capacity visits 550 cities annually, said, "I have seldom heard a group of high school choristers with such full voices and with such an understanding of the spirit of the music projected."

The vounteer workers in attendance at the meeting made their individual reports along with a presentation of the over-all picture by the membership chairmen.

It was announced by Leonard Stine that a block of 50 tickets would be purchased and used by the music students at the high school. Other subscriptions to be used by the music students were purchased by Miss Walker and H. Thomas of this city. Contributions of $50 each were made by Mrs. Arthur H. Wicks and Miss Emily Rice for expenses in conjunction with the subscription campaign.

The Community Concert Association headquarters will be open daily this week in the Governor Clinton Hotel from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. ## Three Injured in Crash

Three persons were reported injured in an automobile accident on Route 32 one mile south of Kingston at 4:45 p. m. Sunday, state police said.

Miss Lois Sheehan of 12 Washington avenue was admitted to the Benedictine Hospital, where her condition today was reported as "good." Troopers said Raymond Pardee, 19, and Jack Radel, 17, both of Connelly, were released after treatment at the hospital.

They were riding in an automobile, driven by Pardee, which went out of control as it was headed south on Route 32, rolled over three times and came to rest against the automobile of Bernard Schermerhorn, 26, of New Paltz, who had pulled off the road in an attempt to avoid the collision, according to the state police report. Investigation was by Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly and Trooper Michael Lisman. Occupants of the Schermerhorn car were reported uninjured.

The accident occurred in the precise spot where three persons were killed in an accident last July 1.

Pardee was scheduled to report for duty in the U. S. Air Force this morning, Sgt. Reilly said. (James E. Anner photo) urday by firemen using grappling hooks from a rowboat, state police reported.

Boy Drowns

A verdict of accidental death was issued by Coroner Michael A. Galietta of Glasco. Saugerties village police and state troopers as well as firemen joined in the search and grappling operations after the boy was reported missing at 7 p. m.

Robert, the son of Louis and Mildred Mininchelli of Saugerties, left his home about 3 p. m. Saturday, state police learned. When he failed to return by late afternoon, his parents notified authorities and a search was started at 7 p. m.

Grappling operations were begun almost immediately, because the Mininchelli home is located close to the Esopus Creek, troopers said.

The body was pulled up by firemen grappling from a boat about 9:45 p. m. Troopers said the creek was about 20 feet deep in the spot where the body was located.

Samter Is Injured

Morris Samter, 68, of the Governor Clinton Hotel, was one of five persons injured Saturday afternoon when Samter's auto and one driven by Herbert E. Justesen, 45, of Clifton, N. J., collided almost head-on near Port Ewen on route 9W, state police reported.

Samter's condition was listed as "critical" at Kingston Hospital this morning. State police reported he suffered chest injuries and shock, complicated by a cardiac condition.

Justeson suffered injuries to the face, arms and head, troopers said.

Also injured were three passengers in Samter's car, identified by state police as William Montgomery, laceration of head; Mrs. Montgomery, broken leg and laceration of face, and Sarah Humphrey, bruise of right temple. All are listed as residents of the Governor Clinton Hotel, and all were taken by ambulance to the Kingston Hospital.

Samter is an officer of the Kingston Lumber Corporation and a director of the National Ulster County Bank of Kingston.

The automobiles, both described by troopers as total wrecks, came to rest on the extreme southbound lane of route 9W near the Orchard Garage two miles south of Kingston. Troopers Michael Lisman of Kingston and Henry Breen of Highland investigated.

Truck Driver Hurt

A Krug Bakery Company truck was badly damaged and its driver injured about 1:25 p. m. Saturday when the truck struck the left rear of a farm tractor, left the highway and ran 100 yards into an apple orchard, sideswiping two trees and plunging head-on into a third, state police at Highland reported. The accident occurred on Route 9W one and a half miles south of Marlborough.

State police said the truck driver, Frank Daddario, 38, of Center Moriches, was treated by a Marlborough physician for lacerations, abrasions and contusions.

The tractor was being driven along the shoulder of the road by Charles E. Penney, 61, of Marlborough, who was not injured, according to the state police report.

Shumate Is Shot

Robert Shumate, 27, of Lomontville, was accidentally shot in the left ankle by a .22 calibre bullet fired by a butcher at a bull during butchering operations on the farm of Shumate's father, Edwin B. Shumate, at Lomontville, Sunday at 9 a. m., the sheriff's office reported.

Shumate's condition was reported as "fair" at the Kingston Hospital this morning.

William Churchill, assistant county investigator, said the accident occurred as Carl Scholl of Wrentham street attempted to fire the mercy shot into the bull. No charges were placed.

Fires Get Out of Hand

Brush fires got out of hand in many sections of the county Sunday afternoon when a stiff wind fanned the flames through tinderdry woodlands and brush or grass fields.

Other reports indicated all surrounding areas experienced the same or worse conditions.

Very few fire companies in the county were not called out at least once on Sunday.

One fire extended along a five-mile front near Williams Lake Hotel at Binnewater and brought out seven volunteer departments and a total of 14 or 15 pieces of apparatus about noon on Sunday. Two hours of firefighting were required before the blaze was brought under control.

Seven Companies Answer

Departments responding to the Binnewater blaze were Cottekill, Binnewater, Tillson, Bloomington, Rosendale, Rifton and New Paltz. Herman Miller, acting chief of the Cottekill department, today lauded the assisting companies for their cooperation.

Another woodland fire on Saturday at the intersection of Route 28A and the Dike road was fought by members of the Woodstock volunteer fire department, forest rangers and Department of Water Supply employes, state police reported.

Calls Received

Dispatchers at Kingston's Central Fire Station were kept busy receiving calls both for local fires and for county fires which were channeled there through the mutual aid system. Here's a quick rundown of county fire calls received:

12:29 p. m. Saturday—Binnewater department reported it was answering a call for a dump fire.

12:01 p. m. Sunday — Chief Anderson of Binnewater asked for help from Rosendale on a large grass fire on the Binnewater road. Rosendale notified and reported its truck was already on way to fire.

12:27 p. m. Sunday—Telephone call reporting fire on Rosendale road near railroad crossing.

12:38 p. m. Sunday—Call from Tillson department, asking New Paltz stand by during brush fire on Springtown road.

1:20 p. m. Sunday—Report of grass fire on Lucas avenue turnpike.

1:31 p. m. Sunday—Report of grass fire at Richmond Park. Ulster Hose company dispatched.

3:09 p. m. Sunday—Fire in old automobile behind Airport Inn on Route 9W north of Kingston.

12:39 p. m. Sunday—Grass fire on Linderman avenue extension.

12:27 p. m. Sunday—Fire on Boulevard near railroad crossing. Bloomington called, reported it was out on another fire, so Excelsior Hose was dispatched.

1:02 p. m. Sunday—Grass fire on Chapel street near Clearwater Park.

3:23 p. m. Sunday—Grass fire at Kingston street and Fourth avenue.

7:13 p. m. Sunday—Fire in woods off Locust avenue.

7:28 p. m. Sunday—Fire on Ulster street extension.

10:03 p. m. Sunday—Grass fire on Locust avenue near Devil's Lake.

9:55 a. m. today—Grass fire near Tammany street.

Other departments known to have answered Sunday afternoon calls for brush fires included the Hurley, Highland, and Wallkill companies.

Highland firemen spent all day and part of Sunday night fighting a blaze behind Felix's Tavern one mile south of the traffic circle, state police said.

The Wallkill company was called out to assist hard-pressed Orange and Sullivan county departments kept busy with serious fires in the Wurtsboro area, troopers said. With three to five fires going at the same time, troopers said, assistance was also received from Monticello and Middletown departments.

Guessed Right Number

Arlene Jacobs, eight and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Jacobs of 215 Ten Broeck avenue, guessed there were 167 tubes of Chlorodent tooth paste in a mass display at the United Cut Rate Pharmacy. Because her guess came the closest to the actual number of tubes, George Svirsky, the proprietor, also shown, presented her with a Westinghouse food mixer, complete with attachments. (Freeman photo)

Cottekill Firemen Rescue Youth From Binnewater Marsh

Members of the Cottekill fire company pulled an old-time movie thriller early Sunday afternoon when they rescued Lawrence Rickey, 16, of Rosendale, as he sank up to his chest in a deep bog north of the Williams Lake Hotel in Binnewater.

Rickey, a member of the Rosendale fire company, slipped into the bog while fighting a grass and brush fire raging in the area. Stanley Temple, 13, son af Chief Ralph Temple of the Cottekill company, spied Rickey as he sank into the marsh and ran for help.

Members of the Cottekill company, who were protecting the Binnewater area, secured ropes to a fire ladder, laid it on the marsh and Freddie Quick crawled out to pull Rickey loose. Holding ropes to keep the ladder from sinking were Herman Miller, acting fire chief of the Cottekill company, Frank Carbone, George Bockelman, Arthur DePuy and Harry Snyder, Jr.

Four Companies Fight Rosendale Grass Fire

Grass fires which raged almost continuously in the area over the weekend continued today, and one at Rosendale was fought by four fire companies.

The first report of a fire at Rosendale was at 11:06 a. m., through central fire station and at 11:44 a. m., another blaze was reported at Tillson.

At 11:57 Rosendale asked for help and the Stone Ridge, Tillson and Binnewater companies responded to fight a fire on Sand Hill between the railroad station and the lime kiln.

The Bloomington company also went out on a grass fire call in that area at about the same time.

Mutineers in Michigan Seize 10

ammunition were used against them, prison officials said.

At about the 15the hour of the tumult, State Corrections Commissioner Earnest Brooks said the problem at the moment was to "contain" the rioters.

Brooks said the question of "suppressing" the rioters would have to be considered afterwards.

Supplies Threatened

The fire in the quartermaster building threatened the destruction of a supply of prison guards' uniforms.

State police and guards sought a means of wheeling the prison's fire truck into the yard to put out the blaze.

Southern Michigan prison is reputedly the world's largest. It has 6,481 inmates. Of these 4,978 are within the walls. The others are trusties or work camp prisoners.

At the height of the rioting officials said that fully 1,600 prisoners were involved.

Elaborate Lions Show on Tuesday At State Armory

Commercial exhibitors moved into the New York State Armory this morning and began setting up their booths for the industrial, mercantile exposition and automobile show sponsored by the Kingston Lions Club.

The exposition, known as Kingston Area on Parade, opens at 7 p. m., Tuesday and continues nightly through Saturday. A parade is scheduled to leave from Cornell street and Broadway at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday. It will proceed to the Armory by way of Broadway, East St. James street, Albany avenue and Manor avenue.

Ernest J. DuBois, general chairman of the exposition, was contacted this noon at the Armory, where he described the scene as exhibitors started to erect their displays.

Crates of materials arriving at the Armory were being unloaded of some of the latest appliances and manufactured items.

"It looks as if the commercial portion of the show will be more elaborate than in previous years," he said.

Nearly 100 booths have been alloted to exhibitors.

A large windmill in the center of the floor will remind all visitors that this year Kingston is celebrating the 300th anniversary of its settlement.

The vounteer workers in attendance at the meeting made their individual reports along with a presentation of the over-all picture by the membership chairmen.

It was announced by Leonard Stine that a block of 50 tickets would be purchased and used by the music students at the high school. Other subscriptions to be used by the music students were purchased by Miss Walker and H. Thomas of this city. Contributions of $50 each were made by Mrs. Arthur H. Wicks and Miss Emily Rice for expenses in conjunction with the subscription campaign.

The Community Concert Association headquarters will be open daily this week in the Governor Clinton Hotel from 10 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Miss Marion Sistare of the New York office with local representatives will be on hand to answer questions and sign up subscribers for the series of three winter concerts, beginning in October. ## Three Injured in Crash

Three persons were reported injured in an automobile accident on Route 32 one mile south of Kingston at 4:45 p. m. Sunday, state police said.

Miss Lois Sheehan of 12 Washington avenue was admitted to the Benedictine Hospital, where her condition today was reported as "good." Troopers said Raymond Pardee, 19, and Jack Radel, 17, both of Connelly, were released after treatment at the hospital.

They were riding in an automobile, driven by Pardee, which went out of control as it was headed south on Route 32, rolled over three times and came to rest against the automobile of Bernard Schermerhorn, 26, of New Paltz, who had pulled off the road in an attempt to avoid the collision, according to the state police report. Investigation was by Sgt. Arthur A. Reilly and Trooper Michael Lisman. Occupants of the Schermerhorn car were reported uninjured.

The accident occurred in the precise spot where three persons were killed in an accident last July 1.

Pardee was scheduled to report for duty in the U. S. Air Force this morning, Sgt. Reilly said. (James E. Anner photo) urday by firemen using grappling hooks from a rowboat, state police reported.

Boy Drowns

A verdict of accidental death was issued by Coroner Michael A. Galietta of Glasco. Saugerties village police and state troopers as well as firemen joined in the search and grappling operations after the boy was reported missing at 7 p. m.

Robert, the son of Louis and Mildred Mininchelli of Saugerties, left his home about 3 p. m. Saturday, state police learned. When he failed to return by late afternoon, his parents notified authorities and a search was started at 7 p. m.

Grappling operations were begun almost immediately, because the Mininchelli home is located close to the Esopus Creek, troopers said.

The body was pulled up by firemen grappling from a boat about 9:45 p. m. Troopers said the creek was about 20 feet deep in the spot where the body was located.

Samter Is Injured

Morris Samter, 68, of the Governor Clinton Hotel, was one of five persons injured Saturday afternoon when Samter's auto and one driven by Herbert E. Justesen, 45, of Clifton, N. J., collided almost head-on near Port Ewen on route 9W, state police reported.

Samter's condition was listed as "critical" at Kingston Hospital this morning. State police reported he suffered chest injuries and shock, complicated by a cardiac condition.

Justeson suffered injuries to the face, arms and head, troopers said.

Also injured were three passengers in Samter's car, identified by state police as William Montgomery, laceration of head; Mrs. Montgomery, broken leg and laceration of face, and Sarah Humphrey, bruise of right temple. All are listed as residents of the Governor Clinton Hotel, and all were taken by ambulance to the Kingston Hospital.

Samter is an officer of the Kingston Lumber Corporation and a director of the National Ulster County Bank of Kingston.

The automobiles, both described by troopers as total wrecks, came to rest on the extreme southbound lane of route 9W near the Orchard Garage two miles south of Kingston. Troopers Michael Lisman of Kingston and Henry Breen of Highland investigated.

Truck Driver Hurt

A Krug Bakery Company truck was badly damaged and its driver injured about 1:25 p. m. Saturday when the truck struck the left rear of a farm tractor, left the highway and ran 100 yards into an apple orchard, sideswiping two trees and plunging head-on into a third, state police at Highland reported. The accident occurred on Route 9W one and a half miles south of Marlborough.

State police said the truck driver, Frank Daddario, 38, of Center Moriches, was treated by a Marlborough physician for lacerations, abrasions and contusions.

The tractor was being driven along the shoulder of the road by Charles E. Penney, 61, of Marlborough, who was not injured, according to the state police report.

Shumate Is Shot

Robert Shumate, 27, of Lomontville, was accidentally shot in the left ankle by a .22 calibre bullet fired by a butcher at a bull during butchering operations on the farm of Shumate's father, Edwin B. Shumate, at Lomontville, Sunday at 9 a. m., the sheriff's office reported.

Shumate's condition was reported as "fair" at the Kingston Hospital this morning.

William Churchill, assistant county investigator, said the accident occurred as Carl Scholl of Wrentham street attempted to fire the mercy shot into the bull. No charges were placed.

Fires Get Out of Hand

Brush fires got out of hand in many sections of the county Sunday afternoon when a stiff wind fanned the flames through tinder-dry woodlands and brush or grass fields.

Other reports indicated all surrounding areas experienced the same or worse conditions.

Very few fire companies in the county were not called out at least once on Sunday.

One fire extended along a five-mile front near Williams Lake Hotel at Binnewater and brought out seven volunteer departments and a total of 14 or 15 pieces of apparatus about noon on Sunday. Two hours of firefighting were required before the blaze was brought under control.

Seven Companies Answer

Departments responding to the Binnewater blaze were Cottekill, Binnewater, Tillson, Bloomington, Rosendale, Rifton and New Paltz. Herman Miller, acting chief of the Cottekill department, today lauded the assisting companies for their cooperation.

Another woodland fire on Saturday at the intersection of Route 28A and the Dike road was fought by members of the Woodstock volunteer fire department, forest rangers and Department of Water Supply employes, state police reported.

Calls Received

Dispatchers at Kingston's Central Fire Station were kept busy receiving calls both for local fires and for county fires which were channeled there through the mutual aid system. Here's a quick rundown of county fire calls received:

12:29 p. m. Saturday—Binnewater department reported it was answering a call for a dump fire.

12:01 p. m. Sunday — Chief Anderson of Binnewater asked for help from Rosendale on a large grass fire on the Binnewater road. Rosendale notified and reported its truck was already on way to fire.

12:27 p. m. Sunday—Telephone call reporting fire on Rosendale road near railroad crossing.

12:38 p. m. Sunday—Call from Tillson department, asking New Paltz stand by during brush fire on Springtown road.

1:20 p. m. Sunday—Report of grass fire on Lucas avenue turnpike.

1:31 p. m. Sunday—Report of grass fire at Richmond Park. Ulster Hose company dispatched.

3:09 p. m. Sunday—Fire in old automobile behind Airport Inn on Route 9W north of Kingston.

Fires to which fire apparatus of the Kingston Fire Department was dispatched were these:

1:08 p. m. Saturday — Fire in wooden barrels in rear yard of Perry's Taxi Company.

6:23 p. m. Saturday—Brush fire on Locust avenue near Kingston street.

5:58 a. m. Sunday—Automobile fire near 53 Hunter street. Fire in front seat of auto belonging to Harold Hutton, 66 Hunter street.

6:10 a. m. Sunday—Fire damage to couch, radio, bookcase curtains, rug and lamp shades in living room at 63 Henry street.

12:39 p. m. Sunday—Grass fire on Linderman avenue extension.

12:27 p. m. Sunday—Fire on Boulevard near railroad crossing. Bloomington called, reported it was out on another fire, so Excelsior Hose was dispatched.

1:02 p. m. Sunday—Grass fire on Chapel street near Clearwater Park.

3:23 p. m. Sunday—Grass fire at Kingston street and Fourth avenue.

7:13 p. m. Sunday—Fire in woods off Locust avenue.

7:28 p. m. Sunday—Fire on Ulster street extension.

10:03 p. m. Sunday—Grass fire on Locust avenue near Devil's Lake.

9:55 a. m. today—Grass fire near Tammany street.

Other departments known to have answered Sunday afternoon calls for brush fires included the Hurley, Highland, and Wallkill companies.

Highland firemen spent all day and part of Sunday night fighting a blaze behind Felix's Tavern one mile south of the traffic circle, state police said.

The Wallkill company was called out to assist hard-pressed Orange and Sullivan county departments kept busy with serious fires in the Wurtsboro area, troopers said. With three to five fires going at the same time, troopers said, assistance was also received from Monticello and Middletown departments.

Guessed Right Number

Arlene Jacobs, eight and a half year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Jacobs of 215 Ten Broeck avenue, guessed there were 167 tubes of Chlorodent tooth paste in a mass display at the United Cut Rate Pharmacy. Because her guess came the closest to the actual number of tubes, George Svirsky, the proprietor, also shown, presented her with a Westinghouse food mixer, complete with attachments. (Freeman photo)

Mutineers in Michigan Seize 10

ammunition were used against them, prison officials said.

At about the 15the hour of the tumult, State Corrections Commissioner Earnest Brooks said the problem at the moment was to "contain" the rioters.

Brooks said the question of "suppressing" the rioters would have to be considered afterwards.

Supplies Threatened

The fire in the quartermaster building threatened the destruction of a supply of prison guards' uniforms.

State police and guards sought a means of wheeling the prison's fire truck into the yard to put out the blaze.

Southern Michigan prison is reputedly the world's largest. It has 6,481 inmates. Of these 4,978 are within the walls. The others are trusties or work camp prisoners.

At the height of the rioting officials said that fully 1,600 prisoners were involved.

Cottekill Firemen Rescue Youth From Binnewater Marsh

Members of the Cottekill fire company pulled an old-time movie thriller early Sunday afternoon when they rescued Lawrence Rickey, 16, of Rosendale, as he sank up to his chest in a deep bog north of the Williams Lake Hotel in Binnewater.

Rickey, a member of the Rosendale fire company, slipped into the bog while fighting a grass and brush fire raging in the area. Stanley Temple, 13, son af Chief Ralph Temple of the Cottekill company, spied Rickey as he sank into the marsh and ran for help.

Members of the Cottekill company, who were protecting the Binnewater area, secured ropes to a fire ladder, laid it on the marsh and Freddie Quick crawled out to pull Rickey loose. Holding ropes to keep the ladder from sinking were Herman Miller, acting fire chief of the Cottekill company, Frank Carbone, George Bockelman, Arthur DePuy and Harry Snyder, Jr.

Four Companies Fight Rosendale Grass Fire

Grass fires which raged almost continuously in the area over the weekend continued today, and one at Rosendale was fought by four fire companies.

The first report of a fire at Rosendale was at 11:06 a. m., through central fire station and at 11:44 a. m., another blaze was reported at Tillson.

At 11:57 Rosendale asked for help and the Stone Ridge, Tillson and Binnewater companies responded to fight a fire on Sand Hill between the railroad station and the lime kiln.

The Bloomington company also went out on a grass fire call in that area at about the same time.

Rome Kegler Pounds 823 for New All-Time State Gross Singles Record

159-Average Unknown Also Takes First in All-Events With 2047

An obscure, 159-average, kegler with a Cinderella touch today holds the all-time New York State men's tournament gross singles record of 823.

Eugene Hoffmeister, a cable company employe of Rome, compiled the amazing series with scores of 234, 254 and 245 for a 733 net, plus 90-handicap, on the 7:30 a. m. Sunday squad at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium.

His 733 leads the net division in the singles and he soared into the all-events leadership with a nine-game aggregate of 2047 on 552 in the team event; 672, doubles; and 823, singles.

Hoffmeister's sensational performance had an interesting background. He rolled his team event on the Saturday midnight squad at the Bowlodrome and then dozed for a few hours in his car before assaulting alleys 17 and 18 for the record breaker.

Two Open Frames

The big series was marred by only two open frames, a split and a miss following an 8-pin "tap" in the third set. After the tap, Hoffmeister proceeded to cluster seven strikes in succession.

Hoffmeister's 733 was the first "700" series rolled at the Bowlatorium since the alleys were opened. Later in the day, Larry Brew, a 189-average kegler out of Buffalo, achieved the second "700" in Bowlatorium history—a 715 net with solos of 220, 247 and 248. He had 27-pins handicap for a 742 gross for second place in the singles standings.

Two "1400" Doubles

Two tandems soared into the stratospheric "1400" department in the doubles, with the three top places shuffled during the heavy weekend bombardment.

Dean Place and Warren McPherson of Elmira racked up 1407 to grab the lead shortly after Tony Casazza and Ray Brecht of New York city had powered 1405. Hank Schoeman and Herbie Braun, of Buffalo, took over third place late last night with 1369.

New Yorkers Top Net

Bill Hansly and Johnny Bomba of the powerful Cirlin Motors squad of New York took over the net doubles lead Saturday afternoon with a 1346 blast.

Besides the "700" net scores by Hoffmeister and Brew, there were a half dozen "700" gross totals fashioned in the singles and doubles.

New Yorkers Under 2900 In State Team Event

The Bowlodrome's fabled 7 and 8 alleys—known throughout the state—withstood their first major assault Saturday night, when a packed house watched the powerful Cirlin Motors of New York, a 979-average aggregation, fizzle to a 2879 series.

This was the moment everybody was waiting for . . . a big "name" team on alleys 7 and 8. Cirlin Motors had the names — Marty Cassio, all-time ABC great—Bill Hansly, Johnny Bomba, one of the few men in bowling history to roll two consecutive "300" games in the same set.

But alley No. 7—the tricky one—balked the powerful New Yorkers at every turn. They just couldn't solve it and today Fromer Petroleum of Kingston still rides serenely in the gross division with 3249 and Wagner-Adler of New York leads the net with 3219.

Best weekend scores were turned in by Syracuse and Binghamton squads. Porter Cables of Syracuse rolled into fourth place Friday night with 3206, while a cocky, swaggering Sall-Stearns outfit from Binghamton, shot 3201 for fifth position Sunday afternoon.

The upstaters stalked into the Bowlodrome and announced they expected to roll into the first five in the gross division. They were truly great prophets, if brash ones at that.

All five members of the team blasted 600 gross scores as they stacked team totals of 1078, 1059 and 1064. Sam Genco and Joe Strbo powered 652 each. Anthony Marascia, a sub, had 647, Robert Savo, 614; and Carmelo Esposito, 636. The latter had the best net series of 609 and top solo of 234.

There were 11 team totals of 3100 or better in the gross division. The best individual performance in the team shooting over the weekend was fashioned by Less Mitchell, of the Herkimer Jarvis Drugs with a 733 blast on alleys 9 and 10. Mitchell socked solos of 236, 240 and 257. His 27-handicap gave him a 760 gross.

Automotive Hint

One way to free sticky valves is to insert the disconnected end of the windshield wiper hose into a can of valve oil. Suction will draw the oil to the valve stems, although there will be plenty of smoke because of the oil going through the engine, no harm will be done. When the valves are free, the windshield wiper may be connected again.

1953 State Tourney Goes to Rochester

Rochester was awarded the 1953 New York State bowling championships at the annual convention Saturday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Bids for the 1954 meet were placed by Utica, Albany and Niagara Falls.

D. M. Crants of Corning was elected president, succeeding Sam Doyle, of Geneva, who was elevated to life membership.

Joseph J. Minella, state executive director from the Rochester Bowling Association, was named 4th vice-president.

State officials praised Kingston for securing the fourth largest entry in the tournament history and staging the brilliant opening dinner and ceremonies.

The schedule difficulties that have engulfed the local state tournament committee were not mentioned by the state officers, except in a brief speech by Edwin L. Sanborn, fourth vice-president of Syracuse, who urged the state association directors to exercise greater caution in the awarding of tournaments in the future.

In an obvious reference to Kingston, Sanborn said that the state association had been "lax" in demanding specified conditions relating to the hotel accommodations, alley facilities and trained personnel to handle tournaments.

On the whole, however, the state officials were inclined to agree that Kingston had done a good job under the circumstances.

State Sets Record

Secretary George Obenauer's report revealed that New York state has passed Illinois and Michigan as the No. 1 state in sanctioned bowling.

New York state now has 42,432 sanctioned leagues, compared to 41,302 for Michigan and 41,187 in Illinois. Ohio is fourth with 39,923 teams and Wisconsin, fifth with 23,508.

Obenauer said it was an outstanding accomplishment for the Kingston tournament to attract the fourth largest entry in history. His statistical report revealed that 80 city associations and 103 towns and villages outside Kingston were represented in the entry list.

A total of 199 cities, towns and villages now have ABC sanctioned bowling in New York state, a new record, Obenauer said.

Kingston drew special commendation for its 133-team entry and Poughkeepsie was singled out for 101 teams. There were 1,458 outside teams entered in the Kingston event.

The state secretary praised the bowlers who brought the state tournament to the city and said he saw a mystic coincidence in Kingston's 300th aniversary, the "300" score and the state tournament and the Dutch background of the community and Dutch origin of bowling.

It was only fitting, Obenauer observed, that the state tournament should be in Kingston during such a year.

With respect to continued growth of bowling in the state, the secretary's report revealed that there was an increase of 751 sanctioned leagues and 2,000 teams in the past year.

The state now has 1,022 establishments, with 8,781 alley beds to lead the nation. Michigan, the second state, has 680 establishments, with 6,405 alley beds.

A prolonged discussion on a motion to award gold rings to members of championship teams resulted in a stalemate and the proposal was shelved for further study.

The remainder of the meeting was taken up with technical matters pertaining to the state association.

State Women's Prexy To Serve 21st Term

Jamestown, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Mrs. Iola Lasher of Albany has been reelected president of the New York State Women's Bowling Association for the 21st year in a row.

After her reelection last night, she was honored with many gifts from a large number of state bowling clubs on the occasion of her 20th anniversary as leader of the state group.

Delegates attending the annual meeting held in connection with the annual tourney now under way decided to hold next year's event in Westchester county.

It'll be in Rochester in 1954, according to plans drawn up by the keglers association.

Marathon Runner Has Appendectomy

Boston, April 21 (AP)—Guatemalan runner Guillermo Rojas was recuperating today from an emergency appendectomy performed 12 hours after he finished 27th in the famed Boston A.A. Marathon last Saturday.

The illness cast a little gloom over the victory of Rojas' countryman, Doroteo Flores, and the

159-Average Unknown Also Takes First in All-Events With 2047

An obscure, 159-average, kegler with a Cinderella touch today holds the all-time New York State men's tournament gross singles record of 823.

Eugene Hoffmeister, a cable company employe of Rome, compiled the amazing series with scores of 234, 254 and 245 for a 733 net, plus 90-handicap, on the 7:30 a. m. Sunday squad at the Ruzzo Bowlatorium.

His 733 leads the net division in the singles and he soared into the all-events leadership with a nine-game aggregate of 2047 on 552 in the team event; 672, doubles; and 823, singles.

Hoffmeister's sensational performance had an interesting background. He rolled his team event on the Saturday midnight squad at the Bowlodrome and then dozed for a few hours in his car before assaulting alleys 17 and 18 for the record breaker.

Two Open Frames

The big series was marred by only two open frames, a split and a miss following an 8-pin "tap" in the third set. After the tap, Hoffmeister proceeded to cluster seven strikes in succession.

Hoffmeister's 733 was the first "700" series rolled at the Bowlatorium since the alleys were opened. Later in the day, Larry Brew, a 189-average kegler out of Buffalo, achieved the second "700" in Bowlatorium history—a 715 net with solos of 220, 247 and 248. He had 27-pins handicap for a 742 gross for second place in the singles standings.

Two "1400" Doubles

Two tandems soared into the stratospheric "1400" department in the doubles, with the three top places shuffled during the heavy weekend bombardment.

Dean Place and Warren McPherson of Elmira racked up 1407 to grab the lead shortly after Tony Casazza and Ray Brecht of New York city had powered 1405. Hank Schoeman and Herbie Braun, of Buffalo, took over third place late last night with 1369.

Place furnished 744 gross for the doubles leaders, with McPherson posting 663. Casazza had 717 and Brecht 688 for the second place squad.

New Yorkers Top Net

Bill Hansly and Johnny Bomba of the powerful Cirlin Motors squad of New York took over the net doubles lead Saturday afternoon with a 1346 blast.

Besides the "700" net scores by Hoffmeister and Brew, there were a half dozen "700" gross totals fashioned in the singles and doubles.

New Yorkers Under 2900 In State Team Event

The Bowlodrome's fabled 7 and 8 alleys—known throughout the state—withstood their first major assault Saturday night, when a packed house watched the powerful Cirlin Motors of New York, a 979-average aggregation, fizzle to a 2879 series.

This was the moment everybody was waiting for . . . a big "name" team on alleys 7 and 8. Cirlin Motors had the names — Marty Cassio, all-time ABC great—Bill Hansly, Johnny Bomba, one of the few men in bowling history to roll two consecutive "300" games in the same set.

But alley No. 7—the tricky one—balked the powerful New Yorkers at every turn. They just couldn't solve it and today Fromer Petroleum of Kingston still rides serenely in the gross division with 3249 and Wagner-Adler of New York leads the net with 3219.

Best weekend scores were turned in by Syracuse and Binghamton squads. Porter Cables of Syracuse rolled into fourth place Friday night with 3206, while a cocky, swaggering Sall-Stearns outfit from Binghamton, shot 3201 for fifth position Sunday afternoon.

The upstaters stalked into the Bowlodrome and announced they expected to roll into the first five in the gross division. They were truly great prophets, if brash ones at that.

All five members of the team blasted 600 gross scores as they stacked team totals of 1078, 1059 and 1064. Sam Genco and Joe Strbo powered 652 each. Anthony Marascia, a sub, had 647, Robert Savo, 614; and Carmelo Esposito, 636. The latter had the best net series of 609 and top solo of 234.

There were 11 team totals of 3100 or better in the gross division. The best individual performance in the team shooting over the weekend was fashioned by Less Mitchell, of the Herkimer Jarvis Drugs with a 733 blast on alleys 9 and 10. Mitchell socked solos of 236, 240 and 257. His 27-handicap gave him a 760 gross.

Automotive Hint

One way to free sticky valves is to insert the disconnected end of the windshield wiper hose into a can of valve oil. Suction will draw the oil to the valve stems, although there will be plenty of smoke because of the oil going through the engine, no harm will be done. When the valves are free, the windshield wiper may be connected again.

1953 State Tourney Goes to Rochester

Rochester was awarded the 1953 New York State bowling championships at the annual convention Saturday at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

Bids for the 1954 meet were placed by Utica, Albany and Niagara Falls.

D. M. Crants of Corning was elected president, succeeding Sam Doyle, of Geneva, who was elevated to life membership.

Joseph J. Minella, state executive director from the Rochester Bowling Association, was named 4th vice-president.

State officials praised Kingston for securing the fourth largest entry in the tournament history and staging the brilliant opening dinner and ceremonies.

The schedule difficulties that have engulfed the local state tournament committee were not mentioned by the state officers, except in a brief speech by Edwin L. Sanborn, fourth vice-president of Syracuse, who urged the state association directors to exercise greater caution in the awarding of tournaments in the future.

In an obvious reference to Kingston, Sanborn said that the state association had been "lax" in demanding specified conditions relating to the hotel accommodations, alley facilities and trained personnel to handle tournaments.

On the whole, however, the state officials were inclined to agree that Kingston had done a good job under the circumstances.

State Sets Record

Secretary George Obenauer's report revealed that New York state has passed Illinois and Michigan as the No. 1 state in sanctioned bowling.

New York state now has 42,432 sanctioned leagues, compared to 41,302 for Michigan and 41,187 in Illinois. Ohio is fourth with 39,923 teams and Wisconsin, fifth with 23,508.

Obenauer said it was an outstanding accomplishment for the Kingston tournament to attract the fourth largest entry in history. His statistical report revealed that 80 city associations and 103 towns and villages outside Kingston were represented in the entry list.

A total of 199 cities, towns and villages now have ABC sanctioned bowling in New York state, a new record, Obenauer said.

Kingston drew special commendation for its 133-team entry and Poughkeepsie was singled out for 101 teams. There were 1,458 outside teams entered in the Kingston event.

The state secretary praised the bowlers who brought the state tournament to the city and said he saw a mystic coincidence in Kingston's 300th aniversary, the "300" score and the state tournament and the Dutch background of the community and Dutch origin of bowling.

It was only fitting, Obenauer observed, that the state tournament should be in Kingston during such a year.

With respect to continued growth of bowling in the state, the secretary's report revealed that there was an increase of 751 sanctioned leagues and 2,000 teams in the past year.

The state now has 1,022 establishments, with 8,781 alley beds to lead the nation. Michigan, the second state, has 680 establishments, with 6,405 alley beds.

A prolonged discussion on a motion to award gold rings to members of championship teams resulted in a stalemate and the proposal was shelved for further study.

The remainder of the meeting was taken up with technical matters pertaining to the state association.

State Women's Prexy To Serve 21st Term

Jamestown, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Mrs. Iola Lasher of Albany has been reelected president of the New York State Women's Bowling Association for the 21st year in a row.

After her reelection last night, she was honored with many gifts from a large number of state bowling clubs on the occasion of her 20th anniversary as leader of the state group.

Delegates attending the annual meeting held in connection with the annual tourney now under way decided to hold next year's event in Westchester county.

It'll be in Rochester in 1954, according to plans drawn up by the keglers association.

Marathon Runner Has Appendectomy

Boston, April 21 (AP)—Guatemalan runner Guillermo Rojas was recuperating today from an emergency appendectomy performed 12 hours after he finished 27th in the famed Boston A.A. Marathon last Saturday.

The illness cast a little gloom over the victory of Rojas' countryman, Doroteo Flores, and the fine third-place finish of their teammate Luis Velasquez.

Rojas, a 30-year-old policeman, fell across the finish line after covering the 26 miles, 385 yards course and it was thought he had a bad case of stomach cramps.

Rose Schatzel Leads State Women's Singles and All-Events Divisions

The Queen Sets New Record With Two '600' Series

Rolls 616 in Singles; 1710 in All-Events

Rose Schatzel, who wrote a new chapter in the New York State women's record book Saturday at Jamestown, is well on the way to her second straight state all-events crown.

Mrs. Schatzel, the 1951 champion, leads this year's tournament with a nine-game aggregate of 1710 and tops the Class A singles with 616.

The Queen and Elizabeth Schoonmaker are second in Class A doubles with 1133.

When Mrs. Schatzel fired successive "600" series in her singles and doubles on Saturday, it marked the first time in the 11-year history of the tournament that such a feat has been accomplished, state officials said.

The Dark Dynamiter knocked off 604 in the doubles on solos of 232, 203 and 170 and continued with 169, 232 and 215 for 616 in the singles.

With a record breaking crowd looking on in the team event, the local ace slumped to 490 but her overall total was enough to send her into first place in the all-events.

The Jones Dairy squad, led by Ada Markle's 523 and Schatzel's 490, came up with a mediocre 2279 to finish well out of the money.

Dot Flemmings and Ada Markle paired for 942 in the doubles, while Sue Heins and Beverly Port had 833 for their tandem score. Miss Heins rolled 512 in Class A singles.

Rochester Leads

The Turner Club of Rochester held on to its lead in the Class A team division with a solid 2544 aggregate.

After a heavy weekend of rolling, the Cervi Construction Company, Buffalo, held the second team spot with 2492, followed by Burzynski Liquor, Syracuse, with 2487.

Trailing Mrs. Schatzel in the Class A singles were two prominent stars, Ethel Vogelsang, of Buffalo, with 604; and Jean Murphy, Utica, 593.

Betty Mawn and the well-known Mary Quinn, of Buffalo, led Class A doubles with 1146, ahead of the 1133 posted by the Schatzel - Schoonmaker combine. Anne Sweirzak and Esther Blessing, of North Tonowanda, were third with 1094.

The tourney continues on weekends through June 8.

High Score Slump In ABC Tournament

Milwaukee, April 21 (AP)—Spring fever apparently took effect on participants at the American Bowling Congress tourney yesterday producing the dullest day of the meet thus far. Top 10 leaders in all divisions maintained their positions with ease.

The best individual blast was recorded by William Cline of Columbus, Ohio, who made fairly impressive dents in the singles and all events columns. He clicked off a 641 singles jolt, being consistent on games of 215, 213 and 213. He added that to his 578 team count fired on Saturday and a 614 doubles total for 1,833 in all events.

A Louisville duo, Bob Rothgerber and Fred Borcherding, were the doubles pace setters as they splattered 1,226. The former rolled 596 while Borcherding had 630.

The Scoreboard

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's rampaging Indians, baseball's only unbeaten team, are closing in on the major league record for consecutive victories at the start of a season.

At the same time, Detroit's Tigers are on their way to a record in reverse—that of losing the most games from opening day.

Combining brilliant pitching with long-range hitting, Al Lopez' win-happy Tribe yesterday swept a doubleheader from the toothless Tigers, 3-2 and 7-2, for their sixth and seventh triumphs in succession.

Cleveland needs two more wins to equal the record of nine that the 1944 St. Louis Browns, 1918 New York Giants and 1940 Brooklyn Dodgers reeled off from the start.

Detroit, without a victory in its first seven games, is more than halfway to its own major league record of 13 successive losses at the start of the 1920 campaign. The Tigers, only big league club never to finish in the cellar, are there now, seven full games behind the pace-setting Indians.

Tribe Hurlers Click

Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek each went the distance to make it five complete games for Cleveland hurlers in seven starts. Lemon yielded seven hits in the opener for his second triumph. Gromek permitted five for his first.

Luke Easter's homer in the ninth, his third in three days, broke up a pitching duel between Lemon and Art Houtteman. The Indians unloaded four round trippers in the nightcap. Al Rosen hit two and Pete Reiser and Ray Boone one each. Reiser subbed for Larry Doby, who pulled a muscle in his right thigh in the opener.

The Brooklyn Dodgers had their unbeaten skein snapped at five when Sal (the Barber) Maglie pitched the New York Giants to a 6-0 victory. Maglie limited the hard-hitting Brooks to two singles.

Cincinnati won twice in Pittsburgh, 8-6 and 12-2. Ted Kluszewski, slugging Cincinnati first baseman, had a field day at bat with two home runs and two triples to drive in nine runs.

Ned Garver hurled his second shutout in two starts for the St. Louis Browns, who split a twin bill with the Chicago White Sox. Garver held the Sox to two safeties as the Browns won the first game, 8-0. Chicago won the second game, 10-2, with darkness halting it at the end of seven innings. The biggest Brownie home crowd since 1944—25,081—watched the twin bill.

Bosox Keep Rolling

A home run by pinch hitter Billy Goodman with two on in the seventh gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-3 victory over Washington. Boston's sixth win in seven games gave southpaw Mel Parnell his second triumph of the season and his 16th straight over the Senators.

The New York Yankees whipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-6, to halt a three-game losing streak and extend the Athletics' losing skein to four.

Ferris Fain, American League's leading hitter last year, went hitless. The Philadelphia first baseman now has gone 21 times without a hit this season.

Steve Bilko hit a home run with Enos Slaughter on base in the fifth inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over the Cubs in Chicago.

The Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phillies split. Del Ennis' tenth-inning triple gave the Phils a 4-3 win in the opener, but his error in the eighth inning of the nightcap helped the Braves win, 2-1.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Ted Kluszewski, Reds—drove in nine runs as Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 8-6 and 12-2. The Reds' first baseman smashed a grand slam homer and two triples in the second game. He also homered in the opener.

Pitching—Sal Maglie, Giants—snapped Brooklyn's five-game winning streak with a two-hit 6-0 shutout, fanning eight batters to hand the Dodgers their first home shutout in 176 games.

Bad Start for Fain

New York, April 21 (AP)—Ferris Fain, American League batting king in 1951, is hitting .000 so far this season. Fain went hitless against the New York Yankees yesterday making it 21 fruitless efforts in six games. The Philadelphia A's smooth-fielding first baseman also has committed two errors.

TV Kit Reported Stolen

Police were notified at 9:15 p. m. Sunday that someone had taken a television tool kit valued at $100 from the car of Stanley Horne, of 39 Charlotte Place West. The report indicated that a front ventilating window in the car had been pried open and the car unlocked in that manner.

Lakers Need One For Pro Clincher

St. Paul, Minn., April 21 (AP)—Strictly on the theory that the home floor gives a pro basketball team a big advantage, it looks today as if the Minneapolis Lakers are headed for victory in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Lakers last night gained their third win in the series, exploiting the home floor advantage to the fullest for a 102-89 decision over the New York Knickerbockers.

The teams headed for New York for the sixth game of the best-of-seven series which, in theory again, should go to New York. That would even the series and put the seventh and final game on the Lakers home floor in Minneapolis on Friday.

Last night's game was marked by George Mikan going over the 10,000-point mark in his professional basketball career. The Laker center scored his 10,000th point with his first basket in the fourth period. In all, he tallied 32 points during the game, a total equalled by teammate Vern Mikkelsen.

Mikan, voted the outstanding player of the first-half century in an Associated Press poll, has been playing pro ball for six years.

Bronx Cagers Cop Rotary Tournament

Rome, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—The Bronx team today boasted its second straight Rotary Eastern States basketball title for boys 14 and under.

The Bronx trounced Long Island, 54-34, in the final of the 5th annual tourney Saturday. The champs had beaten Auburn, 39-31, in a semi-final game earlier in the day.

Long Island edged Fulton, 39-33, in the other semi-final.

Thorne, Eng., April 21 (AP)—The Royal Humane Society awarded its heroism medal today to a fisherman who saved the life of a three-year-old boy by hooking onto his clothes and reeling him in. Fisherman John Wood couldn't swim. But last October, when little Erroll Mountcastle fell into the water, Wood cast his hook with bullseye accuracy, snagged the boy's clothing and nonchalantly reeled him ashore.

Joseph Long, 55, of 99 DeWitt street, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated following an accident Saturday on Abeel street near the railroad bridge.

A police report at 6:50 p. m., said the other car involved was operated by Henry Lohman, of 100 McEntee street. Long was arrested by Officers Thomas McGrane and Albert Eisele.

Corcoran Return To PGA Is Near

Chicago, April 21 (AP) — The hierarchy of the Professional Golfers Association will meet today to consider what apparently is a growing rift in its tournament ranks.

Attending the meetings, which are scheduled to last three days, will be Fred Corcoran who served as tournament director from 1936-1947 before being deposed. Corcoran built up the tourney tour from $80,000 to $600,000.

Corcoran last month reportedly signed a contract with the PGA tournament committee to assist in relations between touring golf stars and tournament sponsors.

Corcoran plans to set up a new PGA promotional bureau in New York but reportedly seeks official sanction from the executive committee.

PGA officers, headed by President Horton Smith, tournament-sponsoring organizations and members of the tournament committee will be present at the meetings.

The tourney continues on weekends through June 8.

High Score Slump In ABC Tournament

Milwaukee, April 21 (AP)—Spring fever apparently took effect on participants at the American Bowling Congress tourney yesterday producing the dullest day of the meet thus far. Top 10 leaders in all divisions maintained their positions with ease.

The best individual blast was recorded by William Cline of Columbus, Ohio, who made fairly impressive dents in the singles and all events columns. He clicked off a 641 singles jolt, being consistent on games of 215, 213 and 213. He added that to his 578 team count fired on Saturday and a 614 doubles total for 1,833 in all events.

A Louisville duo, Bob Rothgerber and Fred Borcherding, were the doubles pace setters as they splattered 1,226. The former rolled 596 while Borcherding had 630.

NAILED AT THE PLATE

Floyd Baker, Washington Senators infielder, is tagged out sliding into plate by Boston Red Sox catcher Gus Niarhos in fourth inning of game at Fenway Park. Baker tried to score from first on Sid Hudson's double but relay from outfield caught him at plate. Umpire Joe Paparella calls play. Bosox won, 6-3. (AP Wirephoto)

The Scoreboard

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's rampaging Indians, baseball's only unbeaten team, are closing in on the major league record for consecutive victories at the start of a season.

At the same time, Detroit's Tigers are on their way to a record in reverse—that of losing the most games from opening day.

Combining brilliant pitching with long-range hitting, Al Lopez' win-happy Tribe yesterday swept a doubleheader from the toothless Tigers, 3-2 and 7-2, for their sixth and seventh triumphs in succession.

Cleveland needs two more wins to equal the record of nine that the 1944 St. Louis Browns, 1918 New York Giants and 1940 Brooklyn Dodgers reeled off from the start.

Detroit, without a victory in its first seven games, is more than halfway to its own major league record of 13 successive losses at the start of the 1920 campaign. The Tigers, only big league club never to finish in the cellar, are there now, seven full games behind the pace-setting Indians.

Tribe Hurlers Click

Bob Lemon and Steve Gromek each went the distance to make it five complete games for Cleveland hurlers in seven starts. Lemon yielded seven hits in the opener for his second triumph. Gromek permitted five for his first.

Luke Easter's homer in the ninth, his third in three days, broke up a pitching duel between Lemon and Art Houtteman. The Indians unloaded four round trippers in the nightcap. Al Rosen hit two and Pete Reiser and Ray Boone one each. Reiser subbed for Larry Doby, who pulled a muscle in his right thigh in the opener.

The Brooklyn Dodgers had their unbeaten skein snapped at five when Sal (the Barber) Maglie pitched the New York Giants to a 6-0 victory. Maglie limited the hard-hitting Brooks to two singles.

Cincinnati won twice in Pittsburgh, 8-6 and 12-2. Ted Kluszewski, slugging Cincinnati first baseman, had a field day at bat with two home runs and two triples to drive in nine runs.

Ned Garver hurled his second shutout in two starts for the St. Louis Browns, who split a twin bill with the Chicago White Sox. Garver held the Sox to two safeties as the Browns won the first game, 8-0. Chicago won the second game, 10-2, with darkness halting it at the end of seven innings. The biggest Brownie home crowd since 1944—25,081—watched the twin bill.

Bosox Keep Rolling

A home run by pinch hitter Billy Goodman with two on in the seventh gave the Boston Red Sox a 6-3 victory over Washington. Boston's sixth win in seven games gave southpaw Mel Parnell his second triumph of the season and his 16th straight over the Senators.

The New York Yankees whipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 9-6, to halt a three-game losing streak and extend the Athletics' losing skein to four.

Ferris Fain, American League's leading hitter last year, went hitless. The Philadelphia first baseman now has gone 21 times without a hit this season.

Steve Bilko hit a home run with Enos Slaughter on base in the fifth inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-1 victory over the Cubs in Chicago.

The Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phillies split. Del Ennis' tenth-inning triple gave the Phils a 4-3 win in the opener, but his error in the eighth inning of the nightcap helped the Braves win, 2-1.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Batting—Ted Kluszewski, Reds—drove in nine runs as Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 8-6 and 12-2. The Reds' first baseman smashed a grand slam homer and two triples in the second game. He also homered in the opener.

Pitching—Sal Maglie, Giants—snapped Brooklyn's five-game winning streak with a two-hit 6-0 shutout, fanning eight batters to hand the Dodgers their first home shutout in 176 games.

Bad Start for Fain

New York, April 21 (AP)—Ferris Fain, American League batting king in 1951, is hitting .000 so far this season. Fain went hitless against the New York Yankees yesterday making it 21 fruitless efforts in six games. The Philadelphia A's smooth-fielding first baseman also has committed two errors.

TV Kit Reported Stolen

Police were notified at 9:15 p. m. Sunday that someone had taken a television tool kit valued at $100 from the car of Stanley Horne, of 39 Charlotte Place West. The report indicated that a front ventilating window in the car had been pried open and the car unlocked in that manner.

Lakers Need One For Pro Clincher

St. Paul, Minn., April 21 (AP)—Strictly on the theory that the home floor gives a pro basketball team a big advantage, it looks today as if the Minneapolis Lakers are headed for victory in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Lakers last night gained their third win in the series, exploiting the home floor advantage to the fullest for a 102-89 decision over the New York Knickerbockers.

The teams headed for New York for the sixth game of the best-of-seven series which, in theory again, should go to New York. That would even the series and put the seventh and final game on the Lakers home floor in Minneapolis on Friday.

Last night's game was marked by George Mikan going over the 10,000-point mark in his professional basketball career. The Laker center scored his 10,000th point with his first basket in the fourth period. In all, he tallied 32 points during the game, a total equalled by teammate Vern Mikkelsen.

Mikan, voted the outstanding player of the first-half century in an Associated Press poll, has been playing pro ball for six years.

Bronx Cagers Cop Rotary Tournament

Rome, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—The Bronx team today boasted its second straight Rotary Eastern States basketball title for boys 14 and under.

The Bronx trounced Long Island, 54-34, in the final of the 5th annual tourney Saturday. The champs had beaten Auburn, 39-31, in a semi-final game earlier in the day.

Long Island edged Fulton, 39-33, in the other semi-final.

Medal Is Awarded

Thorne, Eng., April 21 (AP)—The Royal Humane Society awarded its heroism medal today to a fisherman who saved the life of a three-year-old boy by hooking onto his clothes and reeling him in. Fisherman John Wood couldn't swim. But last October, when little Erroll Mountcastle fell into the water, Wood cast his hook with bullseye accuracy, snagged the boy's clothing and nonchalantly reeled him ashore.

The land surface at the South Pole is 10,00 feet above sea level, while at the North Pole it is 10,000 feet below sea level.

RUGGED RUGBY—Harvard, dark jerseys, and Bermuda Athletic Association rugby teams claw and battle one another going after the ball during Bermuda's 12th annual rugby week program at Hamilton. Leading colleges from the United States and Bermuda competed. Yale defeated Dartmouth in the finals, 5-0, to retain the championship. (NEA)

Man Is Held After Accident Near Bridge

Joseph Long, 55, of 99 DeWitt street, was arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated following an accident Saturday on Abeel street near the railroad bridge.

A police report at 6:50 p. m., said the other car involved was operated by Henry Lohman, of 100 McEntee street. Long was arrested by Officers Thomas McGrane and Albert Eisele.

Arraigned before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today, Long pleaded not guilty, and the case was adjourned until Saturday. Property bail of $500 was continued.

Car Struck Tree

Officers Walter Fitzgerald and Thomas McGrane reported at 1:22 p. m., Saturday that a car operated by Joseph Conlon, of Jersey City, struck a tree on Larch street. Conlon said he swerved into the tree to avoid striking two boys who ran in front of him.

Corcoran Return To PGA Is Near

Chicago, April 21 (AP) — The hierarchy of the Professional Golfers Association will meet today to consider what apparently is a growing rift in its tournament ranks.

Attending the meetings, which are scheduled to last three days, will be Fred Corcoran who served as tournament director from 1936-1947 before being deposed. Corcoran built up the tourney tour from $80,000 to $600,000.

Corcoran last month reportedly signed a contract with the PGA tournament committee to assist in relations between touring golf stars and tournament sponsors.

Corcoran plans to set up a new PGA promotional bureau in New York but reportedly seeks official sanction from the executive committee.

RESERVOIR FISHING: LOCATING THE FISH

RESERVOIR LAKE BOTTOMS EVENTUALLY BECOME COVERED WITH SILT, CHANGING FISHING CONDITIONS BY FORCING THE MINNOW SCHOOLS TO SURFACE IN SEARCH OF FOOD. THESE MINNOWS ATTRACT FEEDING BASS. SUCH SCHOOLS ARE MORE LIKELY TO BE OUT IN THE LAKE INSTEAD OF NEAR SHORE AS IN NATURAL LAKES. LOCATE THESE SWIRLS AND DIMPLINGS TO FISH BEST.

Washington School Inspection

equipment has been installed and every one of the 21 full sized class rooms, the three fully equipped kindergarten rooms, are in actual operation.

An opportunity will be given the public to inspect the large gym, which with a movable partition which makes it possible to divide the big gym into two gyms for use by girls and boys at the same time. In the event of its need for large public gatherings the partition is removed and the two rooms become one.

Other Vital Rooms

In the Washington school there is also a special room for physical corrective instruction, a library, special room for retarded children, a modern health department, a homemaking room for girls, shop for the boys, an art room and an audio visual room with its own small stage. This room is also used for instruction in music. In use by the music department are also the two dressing rooms off the auditorium stage as well as the auditorium which will be used for practice purposes by the larger musical groups.

The heating system is one of the latest in design, an oil fired low pressure steam plant and the heating of the three kindergarten rooms is by radiant heat with the heating pipes in the floor to give the small children attending kindergarten a warm floor for play.

In the building is also an apartment for a resident janitor. This modern apartment is fully equipped for comfortable residence.

All of this modern plant is under the supervision of Ambrose J. Boyd, principal, and eighteen full time teachers, plus the several special teachers. In the office, which is located just off the main entrance, Miss Case is secretary to the principal.

At the present time there are enrolled in the school from kindergarten through the sixth grade, a total of 635 students.

Much Work Remains

While the interior of the Washington school is now completed except for the hooking up of the main panel board, there remains considerable work to be done on the grounds. The Wall street side has been graded and seeded down. The wire fence from the No. 8 school grounds has been erected along the northerly side of the Washington school property adjacent to the Home for the Aged property and along the Washington avenue street side, however the grading of the play area has not been completed.

The kindergarten department will have its own fenced off play area. This area has not been graded.

A bad water condition along the brook to the south of the new school building will be corrected as soon as the Elizabeth street storm sewer job now under way is completed.

Harry Halverson of this city was architect for the new school.

Dewey Completes Action on 1,049 Bills for State

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Gov. Dewey relaxed at his farm in Pawling today after completing action on 1,049 bills piled on his capitol desk by the 1952 Legislature.

Dewey handled the last of the bills as the statutory 30-day bill-signing period drew to a close Saturday. Yesterday he motored to Pawling for an extended vacation.

Dewey signed 160 bills and vetoed none during the legislative session. Altogether this year, he signed 835 measures and rejected 374 for a veto percentage of 30.9 per cent. Neither were records.

However, Dewey kept intact his 10-year record of never using the "pocket veto"—killing a measure by not acting upon it.

Three Measures Vetoed

The governor vetoed three measures in the last batch. They would have:

1. Denied retirement benefits to any public official who was found guilty of a crime or who refused to waive immunity before a grand jury.

2. Revised the state's libel laws to permit newspapers to make fair and true reports of non-public or secret judicial or legislative proceedings without danger of suits. Under the State Civil Practices Act, newspapers now may report public proceedings without fear of libel actions if they do so accurately and fairly.

3. Permitted most county offices to close on Saturdays, if the shutdown were authorized by the board of supervisors.

Dewey approved bills:

1. Providing for enlargement of city school districts in cities having less than 125,000 population, with the approval of the majority of voters in the affected area and the city board of education.

2. Extending the jurisdiction of the State Water Pollution Control Board over new or extended sewage disposel systems and the propagation and protection of fish and wildlife.

3. Permitting the payment of a debt or contract on the next succeeding business day when the due date falls on a Sunday or holiday.

State Fires Are

began to threaten the research center yesterday.

The two forest fires were described as the biggest in eastern Long Island history and were swept across more than 10 miles of woodland by 40-mile winds.

One of the fires was choked off late yesterday after threatening about 50 homes. Power lines were burned out in Brookhaven, but power was restored quickly by emergency crews.

A fire centered in the Medford area came within five miles of the laboratories. It was brought partially under control late last night.

Fire Near Cold Spring

Another fire broke out at Break Neck Ridge near Cold Spring, roared through timber on Sugar Loaf Mountain toward Lake Surprise and burned some 500 acres. The flames licked north as firefighters closed in on the east toward the Hudson river.

Upstate, a fire on the edge of Allegany State Park burned for five hours and destroyed about 50 acres of timberland before being brought under control.

In Saratoga county, a blaze blackened several hundred acres of brush and second-growth woods, but was under control last night.

A blaze in Albany county menaced homes and a new grade school on the outskirts of the village of Clarksville before it was subdued. Authorities said it started from a dump and burned over about 10 acres of brush.

Another brush fire in the town of Colonie, an Albany suburb, destroyed a barn and a small garage.

Flames broke out twice in the Pack forest about 10 miles north of Warrensburg in Warren county. Both fires were smothered before they could cause appreciable damage to the area maintained by Syracuse University for the training of forestry students.

A grass fire flicked over three acres and destroyed a hay-filled barn on the outskirts of Troy.

Dulles Urges Policy Undergo Compromise

London, April 21 (AP)—John Foster Dulles, a top American expert on foreign policy, urges a compromise between American and British policies toward China.

The lawyer-diplomat, who negotiated the Japanese peace treaty, said in a letter to the Weekly Observer that whatever merit there may be in either country's position on China is canceled out by the other.

The United States supports Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa while Britain recognizes the Communist regime in Peiping.

"Surely," Dulles said, there is a vast range of possible policies between the one extreme of total abandonment of the loyal representatives of Free China on Formosa and the other extreme of now escorting them to the military reconquest of the mainland."

Aviation Experts Check on Crackup

Ralph Reed, deputy chief of the civil aeronautics board, and his assistants are rechecking parts of the smashed C-46 non-scheduled North Continent Airlines plane.

Later a public hearing on the crash will be hed.

Reed said he didn't give much weight to a possible heart attack of the pilot as a crash cause. He said it was logical the co-pilot would take over if the pilot were stricken.

Saturday, a county autopsy surgeon said he found post mortem evidence that the dead pilot, Lewis Powell, 44, of La Crescenta, Calif., suffered from heart disease.

The coroner's office said 28 bodies and parts of a 29th have been recovered. Twenty-one have been identified. Coroner's officials continue their efforts today to identify the other eight.

The coroner's office said bodies of passengers identified include: Pvt. S. Barnes, Brooklyn, N. Y.; H. Beck, Bethpage, N. Y.; Pvt. H. Lattoner, Patchogue, N. Y.; and H. Walg, Flushing, N. Y.

Eight listed as aboard but not yet identfied included: Mrs. H. Walg, Flushing, N. Y.; J. Lang, Great Neck, N. Y.

Washington School Inspection

equipment has been installed and every one of the 21 full sized class rooms, the three fully equipped kindergarten rooms, are in actual operation.

The cafeteria wth a seating capacity of 350 and its accompanying kitchen is complete and in daily use.

An opportunity will be given the public to inspect the large gym, which with a movable partition which makes it possible to divide the big gym into two gyms for use by girls and boys at the same time. In the event of its need for large public gatherings the partition is removed and the two rooms become one.

Other Vital Rooms

In the Washington school there is also a special room for physical corrective instruction, a library, special room for retarded children, a modern health department, a homemaking room for girls, shop for the boys, an art room and an audio visual room with its own small stage. This room is also used for instruction in music. In use by the music department are also the two dressing rooms off the auditorium stage as well as the auditorium which will be used for practice purposes by the larger musical groups.

The heating system is one of the latest in design, an oil fired low pressure steam plant and the heating of the three kindergarten rooms is by radiant heat with the heating pipes in the floor to give the small children attending kindergarten a warm floor for play.

In the building is also an apartment for a resident janitor. This modern apartment is fully equipped for comfortable residence.

All of this modern plant is under the supervision of Ambrose J. Boyd, principal, and eighteen full time teachers, plus the several special teachers. In the office, which is located just off the main entrance, Miss Case is secretary to the principal.

At the present time there are enrolled in the school from kindergarten through the sixth grade, a total of 635 students.

Much Work Remains

While the interior of the Washington school is now completed except for the hooking up of the main panel board, there remains considerable work to be done on the grounds. The Wall street side has been graded and seeded down. The wire fence from the No. 8 school grounds has been erected along the northerly side of the Washington school property adjacent to the Home for the Aged property and along the Washington avenue street side, however the grading of the play area has not been completed.

The kindergarten department will have its own fenced off play area. This area has not been graded.

A bad water condition along the brook to the south of the new school building will be corrected as soon as the Elizabeth street storm sewer job now under way is completed.

Harry Halverson of this city was architect for the new school.

Dewey Completes Action on 1,049 Bills for State

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Gov. Dewey relaxed at his farm in Pawling today after completing action on 1,049 bills piled on his capitol desk by the 1952 Legislature.

Dewey handled the last of the bills as the statutory 30-day bill-signing period drew to a close Saturday. Yesterday he motored to Pawling for an extended vacation.

Dewey signed 160 bills and vetoed none during the legislative session. Altogether this year, he signed 835 measures and rejected 374 for a veto percentage of 30.9 per cent. Neither were records.

However, Dewey kept intact his 10-year record of never using the "pocket veto"—killing a measure by not acting upon it.

Three Measures Vetoed

The governor vetoed three measures in the last batch. They would have:

1. Denied retirement benefits to any public official who was found guilty of a crime or who refused to waive immunity before a grand jury.

2. Revised the state's libel laws to permit newspapers to make fair and true reports of non-public or secret judicial or legislative proceedings without danger of suits. Under the State Civil Practices Act, newspapers now may report public proceedings without fear of libel actions if they do so accurately and fairly.

3. Permitted most county offices to close on Saturdays, if the shutdown were authorized by the board of supervisors.

Dewey approved bills:

1. Providing for enlargement of city school districts in cities having less than 125,000 population, with the approval of the majority of voters in the affected area and the city board of education.

2. Extending the jurisdiction of the State Water Pollution Control Board over new or extended sewage disposel systems and the propagation and protection of fish and wildlife.

3. Permitting the payment of a debt or contract on the next succeeding business day when the due date falls on a Sunday or holiday.

State Fires Are

began to threaten the research center yesterday.

The two forest fires were described as the biggest in eastern Long Island history and were swept across more than 10 miles of woodland by 40-mile winds.

One of the fires was choked off late yesterday after threatening about 50 homes. Power lines were burned out in Brookhaven, but power was restored quickly by emergency crews.

A fire centered in the Medford area came within five miles of the laboratories. It was brought partially under control late last night.

Fire Near Cold Spring

Another fire broke out at Break Neck Ridge near Cold Spring, roared through timber on Sugar Loaf Mountain toward Lake Surprise and burned some 500 acres. The flames licked north as firefighters closed in on the east toward the Hudson river.

Upstate, a fire on the edge of Allegany State Park burned for five hours and destroyed about 50 acres of timberland before being brought under control.

In Saratoga county, a blaze blackened several hundred acres of brush and second-growth woods, but was under control last night.

A blaze in Albany county menaced homes and a new grade school on the outskirts of the village of Clarksville before it was subdued. Authorities said it started from a dump and burned over about 10 acres of brush.

Another brush fire in the town of Colonie, an Albany suburb, destroyed a barn and a small garage.

Flames broke out twice in the Pack forest about 10 miles north of Warrensburg in Warren county. Both fires were smothered before they could cause appreciable damage to the area maintained by Syracuse University for the training of forestry students.

A grass fire flicked over three acres and destroyed a hay-filled barn on the outskirts of Troy.

Dulles Urges Policy Undergo Compromise

London, April 21 (AP)—John Foster Dulles, a top American expert on foreign policy, urges a compromise between American and British policies toward China.

The lawyer-diplomat, who negotiated the Japanese peace treaty, said in a letter to the Weekly Observer that whatever merit there may be in either country's position on China is canceled out by the other.

The United States supports Chiang Kai-shek's government on Formosa while Britain recognizes the Communist regime in Peiping.

"Surely," Dulles said, there is a vast range of possible policies between the one extreme of total abandonment of the loyal representatives of Free China on Formosa and the other extreme of now escorting them to the military reconquest of the mainland."

Aviation Experts Check on Crackup

Los Angeles, April 21 (AP)—While deputy county coroners continued their grisly task of attempting to complete identification of 29 plane crash victims, aviation experts today tried to determine cause of Friday's airliner disaster.

Ralph Reed, deputy chief of the civil aeronautics board, and his assistants are rechecking parts of the smashed C-46 non-scheduled North Continent Airlines plane.

Later a public hearing on the crash will be hed.

Reed said he didn't give much weight to a possible heart attack of the pilot as a crash cause. He said it was logical the co-pilot would take over if the pilot were stricken.

Saturday, a county autopsy surgeon said he found post mortem evidence that the dead pilot, Lewis Powell, 44, of La Crescenta, Calif., suffered from heart disease.

The coroner's office said 28 bodies and parts of a 29th have been recovered. Twenty-one have been identified. Coroner's officials continue their efforts today to identify the other eight.

The coroner's office said bodies of passengers identified include: Pvt. S. Barnes, Brooklyn, N. Y.; H. Beck, Bethpage, N. Y.; Pvt. H. Lattoner, Patchogue, N. Y.; and H. Walg, Flushing, N. Y.

Cost Is Higher

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Despite a 13 per cent drop in the monthly average of persons on welfare rolls in New York state in 1951, the cost jumped to $240,800,000 or $1,300,000 more than in 1950. Raymond W. Houston, acting state social welfare commissioner, yesterday blamed rising prices for the cost increase. He noted that the 1951 average of persons receiving public assistance was 460,000 a month. This compared with 527,000 in 1950.

Life-Saving Technique

Sydney, Australia (AP)—Australian surf life-savers have adopted the Holger-Neilsen manual artificial respiration system for a trial of 12 months. The new method has been recommended by the American Red Cross.

Cost Is Higher

Albany, N. Y., April 21 (AP)—Despite a 13 per cent drop in the monthly average of persons on welfare rolls in New York state in 1951, the cost jumped to $240,800,000 or $1,300,000 more than in 1950. Raymond W. Houston, acting state social welfare commissioner, yesterday blamed rising prices for the cost increase. He noted that the 1951 average of persons receiving public assistance was 460,000 a month. This compared with 527,000 in 1950.

WE CAN REMEMBER WHEN....

. . . the blacksmith was a mighty man--and mighty busy, too! People were industrious and worked long hours in those days, and saving was a slow, careful accumulation. Those people looked to us as the right place to save their hard-earned money. For then, as now, we were a solid, reliable banking institution--serving the people of our community. As we have grown, so, we have always given our depositors, large and small, the soundest, and most complete banking service possible. Look to us for your banking needs!

An Increased Dividend at the Rate of 2½% per year was paid for period ending Mar. 31, 1952.
